1.0 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Purpose and Overview of Process of School Certification

Effective school improvement is high on the agenda of our Philippine education policies. School effectiveness strongly focuses on student outcomes and the characteristics of schools and classrooms that are associated with these outcomes. In short, school effectiveness is trying to find out what is to be changed in schools in order to become more effective, while school improvement is trying to find out how schools can change in order to improve.

The Philippine educational system continues to pursue efforts to raise the quality of educational institutions in both the public and the private sector. With the recent passage of RA 10533 otherwise known as the Enhanced Basic Education Act of 2013, new reforms involving the addition of two years of high school were implemented for the overall goal of producing graduates who are globally competitive and equipped with 21st century skills. The Department of Education (DepEd) which focuses on the management and supervision of Basic Education has established quality assurance mechanisms to ensure the attainment of the goals of the K12 curriculum program. Efforts to enhance these mechanisms in line with K12 requirements and standards need to continue and become part of the Certification program of participating private high schools in the Educational Service Contracting (ESC) Program. \

Initially, the ESC Certification program aimed at assessing and evaluating the extent of compliance to minimum standards of quality of ESC participating institutions. Such certification process has proved to be an effective tool of encouraging quality improvement efforts among ESC participating private schools. Such scheme has assured the communities served that the ESC schools are not only meeting minimum DepEd standards but are manifesting commitment to raising their standards above the minimum requirement in delivering quality educational programs and services.

Participating private schools in the ESC program are enjoined by DepEd to ensure that ESC student grantees are offered academically challenging secondary education in an environment of values, trust and loyalty. ESC grantees along with other private high school students will have acquired the knowledge and developed the skills necessary for success in higher educational pursuits and a wide range of careers in the 21st century workplace. A certified ESC school therefore is one which has complied with all DepEd and K12 program standards, adheres to applicable DepEd policies, and meets the requirements of the self-study protocol used.

The main purpose of certification is to determine whether ESC participating private high schools comply with DepEd minimum standards and with the criteria established in the RA 8545 or the “Expanded Government Assistance to Students and Teachers in Private Education” or GASTPE Law. The certification program also aims to provide an evidence-based procedure in assisting schools to upgrade their educational work in line with K12 program standards

1.2 Values and Benefits of the ESC Certification Program

Compliance with DepEd Policy. In order to be duly approved by the government as a legitimate school, it must meet the minimum standards and criteria for recognition. Certification is a confirmation that:

- a) the school's purposes are within the framework of the Philippine educational philosophy and goals;
- b) it has fully complied with the Department of Education standards; and
- c) It has conformed to all relevant policies and rules.

Greater public accountability. By undergoing the certification process, the school demonstrates a willingness to be held accountable to the school community and to educational professionals. Such mechanism also assures parents and the general public that the school is focused on providing a safe and enriching learning environment while maintaining an efficient and effective operation. Once earned, certification is a nationally recognized sign of quality.

Other added value. The added value of certification is that the school's quality is validated through self-study and on-site evaluation by educational professionals, referred to as ESC certifiers. As a result of the certification, the school becomes more focused on improving student achievement. Administrators, teachers, and the school community become involved in the improvement process.

ESC certified institutions enjoy the following other benefits:

- a) Reciprocity of credits, subject areas, and year level placements between schools around the country as well as validation of the equivalency of diplomas and certificates to other schools.
- b) Students and the public generally have assurance of institutional integrity and of the quality of work done by students in these certified schools.
- c) Access to professional network, support and services designed to continually improve the quality of education.
- d) Self-improvement is encouraged and strongly assisted through peer evaluation of institutions. This continuous improvement process increases the focus on student performance.
- e) Good schools are protected from unwarranted political interference and politicization.

1.3 The PEAC-CU and How It Functions

The PEAC National Secretariat has organized the PEAC-Certification Unit (PEAC-CU) to implement the ESC Certification and the SHS Quality Assurance Programs. The PEAC-CU manages the Certification and Quality Assurance processes: its conduct and development, information-dissemination, logistics appropriations, data management and coordination with other PEAC service units to effect purposive quality service. For all intents and purposes, it aims to:

- 1.4.1 Implement and improve the ESC Certification & SHS-QA Process in the light of the DepEd mandate on Quality Assurance, DepEd policies and guidelines and PEAC-NS vision, mission, goals, objectives, thrusts and values
- 1.4.2 Maintain and secure data bank on ESC and SHS-QA participating schools and their compliance with DepEd standards and indicators of quality
- 1.4.3 Assist in policy-making regarding ESC & SHS Program participation
- 1.4.4 Guide the ESC & SHS-QA participating schools through the Certification process

The Certification Unit's tasks and responsibilities are the following:

1. Develop general policies and procedures governing quality assurance certification process and work
2. Propose & implement criteria and standards for certification or re-certification
3. Provide guidance to private schools in conducting and preparing school self-study report for certification application and recertification
4. Finalize and release Overall Certification Results and Status to schools upon approval of the PEAC Executive Director.
5. Draw and implement the annual certification agenda: schedule of certification visits, deployment of certifiers, etc.
6. Facilitate training and upgrading of national core group of certifiers
7. Disseminate to private schools relative to their certification or re-certification status, policy and program changes
8. Conduct special inquiries into unusual or critical conditions that may develop in a certified ESC school and SHSs for the purpose of quality assurance
9. Conduct studies and research on matters affecting quality assurance in Junior High schools and Senior High Schools
10. Serve as a clearinghouse for issues and concerns regarding quality assurance and the certification process.

The PEAC-CU is headed by the Unit Officer. She is assisted by the Unit Associates for Records Management and Operations for JHS & SHS. The Unit Staff, composed of the Program Assistants and the clerical assistant, performs the nitty-gritty tasks of the certification process and its program implementation and basic operations.

2.0 THE FRAMEWORK AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE REVISED CAI

2.1. Rationale and Background of the Revised Certification Assessment Instrument (CAI)

The Private Education Assistance Committee (PEAC) - Fund for Assistance to Private Education (FAPE) National Secretariat (NS) is commissioned by DepEd for the Program Management of the ESC School Certification Program. By virtue of its delegated authority, PEAC-FAPE National Secretariat commissioned a research on ESC School Certification to establish guidelines and standards for ensuring quality and effectiveness of schools.

With the implementation of the K12 program, a recent review of the instrument used for the certification of ESC participating schools was done to check on its alignment with the K12 curriculum program standards and direction. Other standards that have emerged in the light of K12 such as the Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers (PPST) were also used for comparison. The review showed the need to update the instrument and make the necessary revisions and align the items for compliance with K12 and PPST standards. In the process, the relationship of the different areas for assessment was also re-examined as well as the manner of rating and computing the final score. Comments from certifiers were also solicited regarding the rating scale and scope and sense of the instrument items in the different areas. A draft containing revisions was done and feedback on its clarity and style was obtained in several focus group discussions. The final copy was then field tested in some schools to determine the instrument's usability, reliability and validity. Thus, the revised Certification Assessment Instrument or CAI enables ESC participating schools to determine their compliance with K12 standards and identify areas for school improvement so that they may become a more effective educational institution.

As a quality assurance mechanism, ESC school certification involves a three-phase process consisting of pre-certification, the certification visit and post-certification. The pre-certification phase begins with a self-study conducted by the school. Using the CAI, the school rates itself in accordance with the standards spread out throughout the different areas in the instrument. It is recommended that there is wide school participation in the determination of the self-ratings. The school is also instructed to gather pertinent documents and prepare exhibits that provide evidence and support for their self-rating. The self-study is followed by the visit made by a team of certifiers. The third phase is the post-certification or follow-up procedure carried out by the school to implement the recommendations from its own self-rating and those made by the visiting team.

After the schools submit their report, certifiers also undertake a similar three-phase process of pre-certification, certification visit, and post-certification. Since certain school documents may already be with the PEAC Certification Unit (CU), the certifier, upon coordination with the PEAC-CU, may already request for and peruse a number of these documents and exhibits for his or her preliminary review and study. The certifier may also be able to draft an initial rating for pertinent items in the areas assigned to him or her.

During the visit, the certification team conducts a six-step process (see section 3.2 for a more detailed discussion). The steps begin with 1) Unpacking the Standards and on to 2) Searching for Compliance Evidence, 3) Using the Rating Scale, 4) Getting the Area Rating, 5) Writing the Area Recommendations, and 6) Getting the General Rating and the Overall Certification Status. The certifier also verifies his or her initial ratings in different ways such as by examining other related sources of evidences, interviewing key informants regarding the development and use of the evidences, and obtaining pertinent information or data about the context of the school's policies and operations. At the end of the visit, the team of certifiers meets to finalize their ratings and recommendations as indicated in the instrument templates. The team also conducts a brief post-visit conference where the team thanks the school administrators for their cooperation and gives a few salient remarks on the certification report. After the visit, in certain cases, a member of the certification team may be contacted by the PEAC Certification Secretariat to clarify its report or assist in the follow-up of the school's implementations of the team's recommendations.

For schools and certifiers to successfully accomplish their respective tasks in the above processes, diligence in preparation, openness to various questions and perseverance in the verification and accomplishment of reports are important dispositions for all concerned to have. When school administrators and staff and certifiers show these dispositions, both the school and the certification team create an atmosphere of honest, truthful and productive appraisal of the school's extent of compliance with K12 program standards. All who participate in the process are thus able to make meaningful recommendations and genuine contributions towards the school's improvement and their growth as a provider of quality education.

PEAC-CU disseminates to applicant and participating ESC schools the CAI and trains Certifiers on the use of the CAI during their scheduled school visits.

There is a Master Manual on ESC Certification Program principally designed for the PEAC –Certification Unit, the Certifiers and the School Administrators towards comprehensive orientation on the purpose and process of certification, the design and use of the CAI and the system of visitation and evaluation.

2.2 The Use of the K12 and Evidence-based Framework

The specific goals and objectives of any quality assurance model are made visible in the assessment instrument that it designs and utilizes. For the instrument to reflect the actual level of quality an organization or educational institution is delivering, the instrument as an assessment tool needs to be both valid and reliable. For validity, the design and contents of the instrument has to measure what it ought to measure. For reliability, the use of the instrument by various assessors in different contexts yields as much as possible a common rating result.

In the case of the ESC CAI, the questions of validity and reliability are contextualized within the mandated implementation of the K12 program. Hence, given the DepEd's expectation for all schools to comply with the K12 requirements, for validity, one has to ask the following questions: Since ESC participating schools are required to deliver the K12 program, does the CAI measure what it is supposed to measure; that is, do the CAI items determine the extent of school compliance with K12 standards? Do the items reflect and align with K12 requirements? Secondly, regarding reliability, one raises the following questions about the CAI: How common is the interpretation and rating given by the various certifiers? If several certifiers are assessing the school at different times, how consistent is the result?

On the first question of validity, the existing CAI first formulated in 2003 has been in use until school year 2017-18. Since the passage into law of the K12 program in 2013, the existing instrument has not been updated to reflect K12 standards. Specific items in the area of curriculum, assessment and instruction are articulated within the Basic Education Curriculum previous to K12. Other items related to faculty are also not updated in line with the recent adoption of the PPST as articulated in DepEd Order No. 42 s. 2017.

On the second question of reliability, comments given by various certifiers in interviews and focus group discussions show that interpretation of the various items in the existing CAI varies widely among certifiers. In a workshop conducted by PEAC in 2016 for about 200 active certifiers across the country, the inter-reliability rating using selected items from the existing CAI was below the high norm of .8. When certifiers were also asked to cite specific indicators for the different levels in the rating scale, the certifiers had varied ideas on the distinctive characteristic of each level. A major cause of the result was the way the scale itself was worded where overlapping terms were used. For example, certifiers expressed difficulty in determining the difference between “very extensive” in a rating of 4 and “extensive” in a rating of 3. The same was true in describing indicators for “very satisfactorily” in a rating of 3 and “satisfactorily” in a rating of 2.

The answers to the above questions of validity and reliability thus show the need for revising the CAI. A valid overarching framework for its revision has to include as its key component alignment with K12 standards and requirements. Owing to developments in other areas like faculty and administrations and educational leadership that have been built on K12 requirements, the alignment will not only be done in the revision of items but may also require changes in the CAI’s section areas. Moreover, in response to the question of reliability, an evidence-based approach helps overcome problems of subjective interpretation. This approach entails an articulation of Look-fors in the various evidences so that certifiers and the school have a common focus.

To illustrate the relationship of these different components, the framework for the development of the revised CAI is shown next:

As explained in the revised CAI, at the center of the diagram is the emphasis of obtaining evidence of the school's compliance with the K12 standards. Around this center are the participants in the certification process and their respective tasks. Schools applying for certification or re-certification prepare a report of their self-assessment of compliance with the standards in each area of the Certification Assessment Instrument or CAI. The school's assessment is based on their evidence for the items in nine different areas found on the outer frame of the diagram above. These nine areas are the following:

- A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives
- B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction
- C. Instructional Leadership
- D. Faculty
- E. Academic Support and Student Development Services
- F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities
- G. Administration and Governance
- H. School Budget and Finances
- I. Institutional Planning and Development

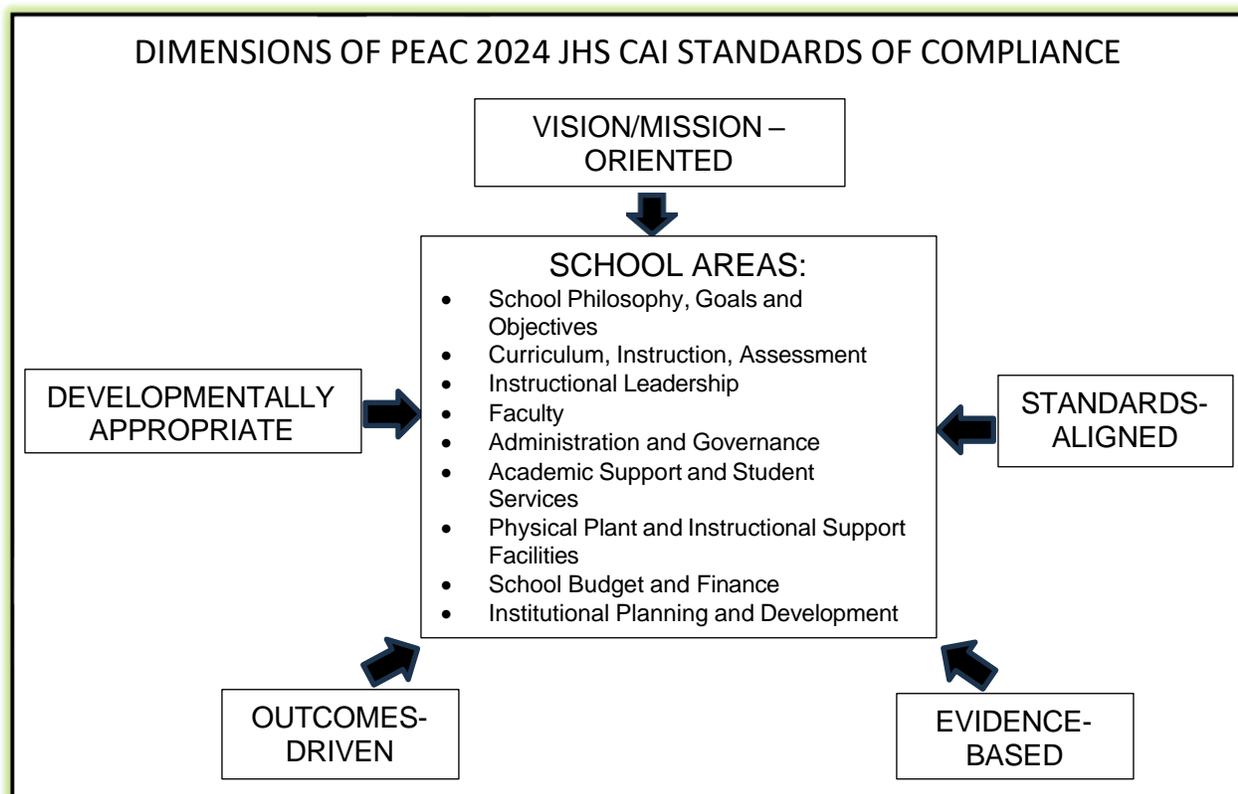

For these nine areas, the school also puts together the different evidences that support their self-rating.

During the certification visit, the team of certifiers verify the school's CAI report and examine the different evidences presented. Thus, instead of ascertaining the school's level of meeting the standards based on their perception, this revised instrument prompts certifiers to look for and verify in more concrete terms the extent of evidences the school actually has. By shifting the focus to observable and tangible evidences, both school and certifiers have a common basis for evaluation. For the school and certifiers' guidance, a section on Examples of Compliance Evidence is found at the end of every area. Decisions about the final certification status are made in line with the presentation and examination of evidences.

The revision/updating of existing standards of compliance in the 2018 JHS CAI and the identification and articulation of new items is premised on five dimensions. The different area items promote quality education when the items are able to manifest or reflect any of these five dimensions namely, vision/mission-oriented, standards-aligned, developmentally appropriate, outcomes-driven and evidence-based. What do each of these dimensions mean?

Vision/Mission-Oriented: As part of their identity as a private educational institution, private schools articulate and carry out their own vision and mission, philosophy of education, goals and objectives. The school’s vision and mission statements define the school’s purpose and direction. Private schools achieve quality when the school is able to operationalize the vision and mission in the different aspects of school work. The 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance then determine how the different policies, programs and services in the nine school areas are oriented to realizing the vision and mission statement. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI asks the following questions: How vision and mission-oriented are the different school areas in their five dimensions are applicable to all levels in basic education.

<sup>1</sup> This is a revised version of an initial section of the proposed PEAC Standards-based Quality Assurance Instrument – Elementary Schools or SQAI-ES. The dimensions have been adapted for inclusion in the PEAC SQAI-ES, JHS CAI, and SHS CAI. While the number of school areas may vary (SQAI-ES and JHS CAI have nine while SHS CAI has 10), the

policies, programs and services? To what extent is the school's vision-mission accomplished in the nine school areas?

Standards-Aligned: With the passage of RA10533 or the 2013 Enhanced Basic Education Act, all basic education schools are mandated to teach the Department of Education's K to 12 curriculum program. The program contains curriculum standards and competencies for students to learn. As a private entity, JHS are also enjoined to comply with the provisions of the 2010 Revised Manual of Regulation for Private Schools. Private schools thus show quality when these standards are adopted, implemented and used for evaluation in the nine school areas. For these reasons, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance examine how the school's curriculum, instruction and assessment are aligned with and utilize these standards. With this second dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance raise the question: To what extent is the school implementing the K12 program standards and other requirements in the nine school areas?

Developmentally-Appropriate: Students in the JHS level develop and realize their potentials when the school provides them research-based teaching and learning experiences that attend to their developmental needs and nurture their growth in different domains (i.e., physical and motor, social-emotional, character and values, cognitive and intellectual, language, mathematical and creative-aesthetic). Consequently, private JHSs manifest quality when the policies, programs and services in the nine school areas are formulated, undertaken and assessed in accordance with the student's developmental requirements and milestones. The 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance gauge how the school incorporates the students' background, needs, learning styles and abilities when planning, implementing and evaluating policies, programs and services. In this third dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance focus on the following question: To what extent are the different developmental needs of students addressed in the nine school areas?

Outcomes-driven: Schools are outcomes-driven when they focus on results that represent students' performance of expected skills as well as each department or program's achievement of stated goals. Private JHS rate high on quality when first, their students in various assessments reliably and consistently demonstrate the skills required at a certain grade level or higher and second, when their programs and services accomplish their specific targets. In line with this, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance measure and report students' achievement levels and program results. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance examine the following: To what extent are students able to demonstrate knowledge, understanding and performance of learning standards and competencies? To what extent are the students able to accomplish the milestones in the different domains of development? To what extent are programs and services in the nine school areas able to produce desired results?

Evidence-based. Successful JHS regularly obtain data and employ various metrics to present and showcase their pupils' achievement and effectiveness of their programs and services. They also search for and document valid and authentic examples of students' achievement, learning interventions and program results. Private JHS undertake these tasks with transparency and rigor. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance check on the following: To what extent is the school able to support its claims of students' achievements and program effectiveness in the nine school areas?

These five dimensions are integrated throughout the instrument. Every JHS CAI area has items that reflect these dimensions. For example, in the area of Instructional Leadership, item 1 (The provision of a system that actively communicates to various stakeholders the school’s Vision, Mission, and Kto12 standards and directions and school’s development and innovations in curriculum, assessment and instruction) is vision-mission oriented and standards-aligned. In the Area of Academic Support and Student Development Services, item 3 (A program for inventory and testing services to gather information on students’ psychological and emotional make-up, academic progress and difficulties, and occupational and career interests) is about the developmentally-appropriate dimension. Item 3 in Instructional Leadership (Regular collection, interpretation and dissemination of data on student learning and performance to top and key school leaders towards informed decision-making) cover the outcomes-driven and evidence-based dimensions. Through the integration of these five dimensions, school administrators can understand the basis for specification of standards of compliance in the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI.

2.3. Summary Matrix of Sections and Features of the 2024 JHS CAI

Following the above framework, a matrix is given below stating and discussing in detail the components and sections of the JHS CAI.

AIM OF QUALITY ASSURANCE	Determine evidence of compliance with DepEd minimum standards, K12 program and with the criteria established in the GASTPE Law.
PROCESS OF QUALITY ASSURANCE	3-Phase Process: I. Self-Assessment : Self-assessment conducted by the school and preparation of documents/exhibits as evidences of compliance. II. Verification : The self-study is followed by a visit made by a team of certifiers. The team carries out a six-step process as follows: (1) Unpacking the Standards (2) Searching for Compliance Evidences (3) Using the Rating Scale (4) Getting the Area Rating (5) Writing the Area Recommendations /School Improvement Planning

	(6) Getting the General Rating and the Overall Certification Status III. Post-Verification: The third step is the follow-up procedure carried out by the school to implement the recommendations from its own self-study and those made by the visiting team.
AREAS OF EVALUATION	A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives  B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction  C. Instructional Leadership  D. Faculty  E. Academic Support and Student Development Services  F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities  G. Administration and Governance  H. School Budget and Finances  I. Institutional Planning and Development Above areas are clustered into two:  CORE:  A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives  B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction  C. Instructional Leadership  D. Faculty  G. Administration and Governance SUPPORT:  E. Academic Support and Student Development Services  F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities  H. School Budget and Finances  I. Institutional Planning and Development NOTE: The Core group of areas covers sections deemed essential to teaching and learning. The Support

	group of areas includes school operations that are undertaken in the context of and based on the direction of the Core group of areas.
FORMAT OF INSTRUMENT	Description of Area  Basis of Evaluation  Standards of Compliance Items and Rating Scale  Area Rating  Comments  Example Compliance Evidences NOTE: Standard items are classified into two as power standards (marked with an *) and support standard. Power standards are critical to the effectiveness of an area. Support standards enhance or supplement the requirements of the power standards. The distribution of Power (indicated by an ) and Support Standards per Area is as follows: A 5  B 14 5  C 8* 5  D 5* 3  E 32* 10  F 13* 4  G 8* 3  H 9* 1  I 5* 2
RATING SCALE	Evidence of Compliance:  Scale from 0-4  Meaning of scale:  4 – Evidence of compliance with standard and enhancements is presented  3 – Evidence of compliance with standard is presented  2 – Partial evidence of compliance with standard

COMPUTATION OF AREA SCORE	-No computation of the mean is done since this system tends to hide low rating in an item such as when a high score in 1 item pulls up and makes up for another low scoring item. -Power Standard items are given more weight in the Decision Rule compared to Support Standard items. NOTE: Computation of area rating is first determined by the mode of the item ratings. If the result though is bimodal (that is, 2 modes are present), take the average of the 2 and round down. The reason for this is that the result does not show a clean score for the higher whole number. For example, if the mode is 2.5, the final mode is 2 and not 3. In cases where there is no mode, compute the mean or average and use this as the measure of central tendency. Next subject the result to a decision rule. The decision rule for the Area Rating is as follows: 4 --- For a mode of 4 in the Power Standards and rating of at least 3 in the Support Standards 3 --- For a mode of 3 in the Power Standards and rating of at least 2 in the Support Standards 2 --- For a mode of 2 in the Power Standards

	1 --- For a mode of 1 in the Power Standards 0 --- For a mode of 0 in the Power Standards
AREA RATING SCORE SHOWING COMPLIANCE	3
CLASSROOM OBSERVATION FORM	-Basis of Observation: Items in Classroom Observation form examine the use, development and performance of the curriculum standards and competencies in classroom instruction. -This consists of two parts: A. The Teacher (6 items) B. Student Learning Actions (9 items) -Rating scale is as follows: 4 - Performance of this item is innovatively done. 3 - Performance of this item is satisfactorily done. 2 - Performance of this item is partially done due to some omissions. 1 - Performance of this item is partially done due to serious errors and misconceptions. 0 - Performance of this item is not observed at all. Observation result is determined as follows: Average of all items in both Parts A and B is computed. -Average of certifiers' observation result is computed. The average is entered as the rating for the item in classroom observation found at the end of the Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction Area.

Appraisal of Blended/Distance Learning	- Basis of Observation: This form is to be used in schools where the K12 curriculum is as a matter of school policy and operations delivered in various modalities aside from the regular face-to-face classroom setting. In particular, this form covers schools where students have limited in-person contact with their teachers (i.e., once or twice a week) and are expected to do independent study or have online classes during the rest of the school week with the help of printed or online learning modules and resources. In such schools, the in-person class setting is secondary to other modes which involve either independent study or online classes. The form may also be used by schools doing blended learning. The instrument contains items that deal with technology integration for both in-person and online teaching and learning. As a quality assurance document, the results of the appraisal may contribute to the school's plans to improve and upgrade its blended learning program. Hence, the objective of this appraisal is to provide different schools with helpful feedback on their current system of conducting instruction in modalities covering the combination of face-to-face, distance and online teaching.

A. Current Rating Scale and Compliance Status

Rating	Description
4	Evidence of compliance with standard and enhancements is presented
3	Evidence of compliance with standard is presented
2	Partial evidence of compliance with standard is presented
1	No evidence of compliance with standard is presented but plan of action in line with compliance is presented
0	No evidence of compliance with standard nor plan of action is presented

3.0 The Certification Process

The PEAC NS through its CU takes charge of the management and supervision of the certification process. It deals with the concerns of the applicant and the participating ESC schools in matters of certification. Conversely, every ESC applicant or participating school is required to provide the PEAC National Secretariat with all information required for its certification or recertification status, upholding the confidentiality and security of all information received, and not to disclose any PEAC action with respect to an individual institution prejudicial to its good standing (unless the evidence clearly indicates that the public interest would best be served by doing so.)

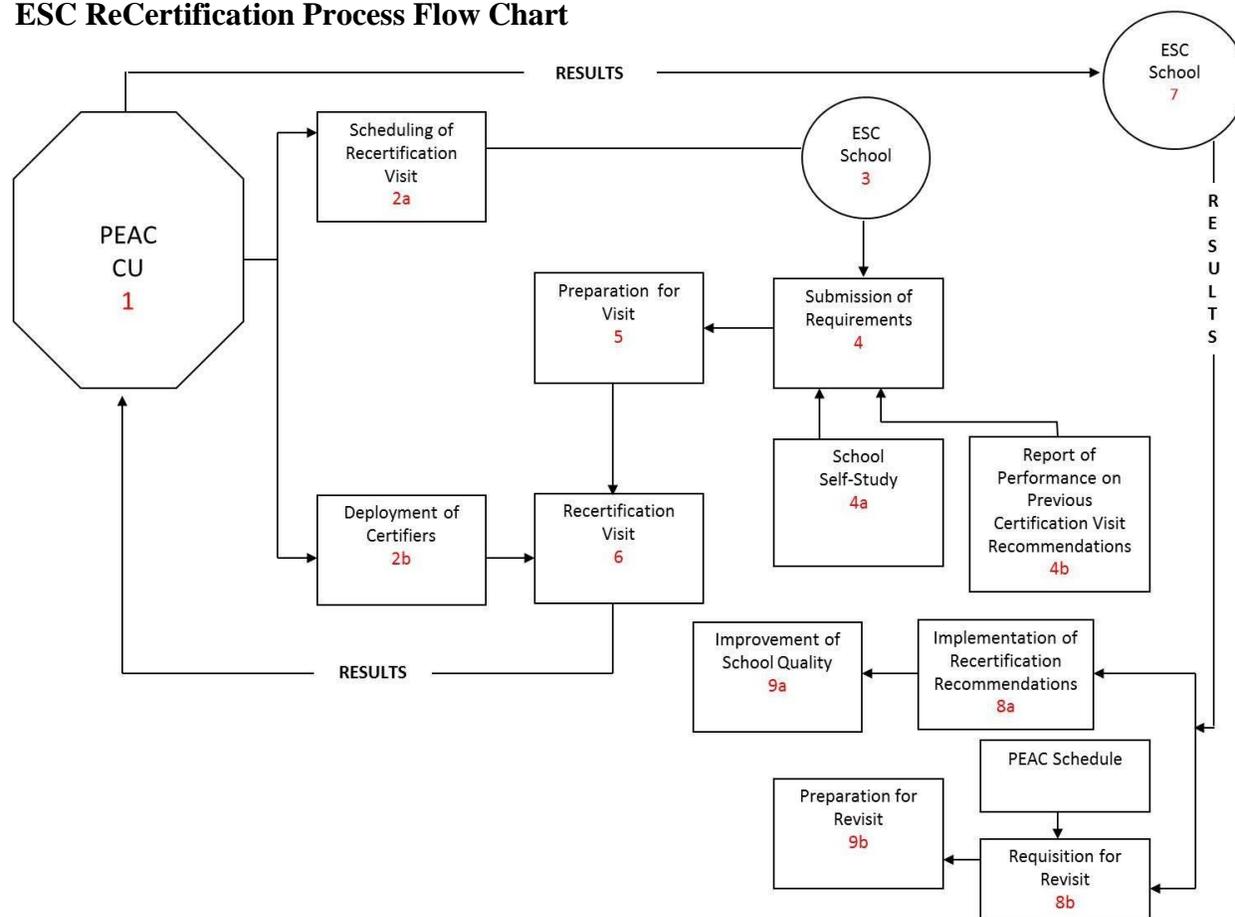

The responsibility for the conduct of the certification visit rests in large measure on the duly trained and deployed ESC certifiers. The roster of school certifiers includes experienced educators who are recognized in administration of their school's instructional program. As such, certifiers are expected to uphold important principles and tenets in certification.

ESC Certification Process Flow Chart

In the Certification process, the Applicant School proceeds from Steps 1 to 10 when it gets certified. If the school’s application requirements and the Self-Study Report are found to have deficiencies (Steps 1-3a), the school repeats the process from Step 1. If the application requirements and Self-Study Report are deemed complete and adequate, the school gets the visit schedule (Step 3b) and proceeds to Steps 4b-5. The result of the visit is submitted to PEAC-CU (Step 6). If after the visit, PEAC-NS through PEAC-CU informs the school that it is Certified (Step 7), the school proceeds from Steps 7b-10. On the other hand, if the school is informed that it has not complied with the certification standards (7a), the school repeats the entire process from Step 1.

ESC ReCertification Process Flow Chart

PEAC-CU schedules the visit and informs the school through the PEAC website (Steps 1-3). With the revisit schedule, the ESC Participating school proceeds from Steps 4-6. If after the visit, PEAC-NS through PEAC-CU informs the school (Step 7) that it is Recertified, the school takes on Steps 8a-9a. If on the other hand, the school is informed that it has not complied with the recertification standards, the school proceeds from Steps 8b-9b.

3.1. Certification Principles and Tenets

3.1.1. General principles. There are three (3) general principles which are fundamental to the operation of the certification program: (1) school-initiated and school-based; (2) collaborative and collegial review and assessment; and (3) integrity.

The first general principle emphasizes that the certification process is initiated by a DepEd recognized school that wishes to apply to PEAC for participation in the ESC Program. As such, the burden for documentation of worthiness for certification falls on the applicant school. Applicant schools as well as those already initially certified must prepare an application for certification or re-certification at a level of thoroughness that allows evaluation of the proponent school or of the certified school by the ESC certifiers. With the school's application is the complete set of required documents containing relevant information on the school. Submission of self-study assessments by applicant or participating schools does not mean certification or recertification.

The second general principle underscores the high degree of collaboration among acknowledged professionals and colleagues in education in the review and assessment of the programs and services of the applicant or participating schools. Respect, openness and collegiality are upheld in the conduct of verification visits, group deliberations and decision-making of the Certification team. Such working relationship must be maintained by the team in the evaluation and assessment of the extent of compliance of the school with the prescribed standards, formulation of recommendations and submission of overall school certification status to the PEAC-Certification Unit for its final decision.

The third general principle is integrity which is an essential prerequisite in the quality assurance process. By academic tradition and philosophical principle, a school is committed to the pursuit and propagation of the truth. As such, it behooves on the school to represent itself truthfully in all its documents and dealings. Consequently, schools are required to be circumspect and forthright in its relationship with the PEAC-CU and the certifiers. On the part of the Certification Teams and the PEAC-CU, their actions and decisions must be reliable, veracious and beyond reproach. Integrity of the certification process is maintained through objective, thorough and honest assessment of the school as well as confidentiality and security of data and information across the entire endeavor.

3.1.2. Guiding principles. The ESC certification process is characterized by four (4) guiding principles, which are:

3.1.2.1. Certification is a continuous process of self-appraisal and purposive school improvement. Each step strategically defines the next one.

3.1.2.2. The certification process is inquiry driven, propelled by questions on effectiveness of school programs and services, performance of students, staff and school and attainment of school philosophy, vision, mission, goals and objectives among others.

3.1.2.3. The certification aims to ascertain school compliance of minimum DepEd requirements and attainment of prescribed standards of quality. The approach is evidence-based and therefore, assessment of school's compliance with standards of quality depends on evidences presented and available.

3.1.2.4. The certification should be sustainable for both the school and PEAC in terms of materials, manpower, time and costs.

In observance of these principles, communication is maintained between PEAC-CU and the school throughout all stages of the certification process.

As a quality assurance mechanism, ESC school certification is a three-phase process which begins with a self-study conducted by the school. The self-study is followed by an assessment visit made by a team of certifiers. The third phase is the follow-up carried out by the school to implement the recommendations from its own self-study and those made by the visiting team.

3.2. The Three Phases of the Certification Visit

Phase I. INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE

Self-Study & Assessment: Discovering Areas of Strengths & Growth

The pre-certification phase begins with a self-study conducted by the school under the leadership of the Principal. Using the JHS CAI, the school through its various area committees rates itself in accordance with the standards spread out in the instrument's different areas.

It is recommended that there is wide school participation in the determination of the self-ratings. The school is also instructed to gather pertinent documents and prepare exhibits that provide evidence and support for their self-rating.

Phase II. EXTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE

ESC-PEAC Team Assessment Visit: Validating School Assessment

The Certification visit is made by a Team of Certifiers validates and verifies self – assessment.

Phase III. EMBRACING THE QUALITY ASSURANCE ETHOS

Continuing School Improvement: Valuing Recommendations and Improvement Planning

The third phase is the post-certification or follow-up procedure carried out by the school to implement the recommendations from its own self-rating and those made by the Certification Team.

Conversely, this three-step process is translated to:

- Pre-Certification Visit or The School Self-Study
- Certification Visit or The ESC Certification Visit
- Post Certification Visit or The Institutionalization of School Improvement

The JHS Certification Visit Flow Chart

I. Pre-Certification Visit: The School Self -Study

It is imperative for private schools participating in the ESC programs to maintain adequacy of their resources and capabilities in effectively providing quality education. These institutions have the responsibility to periodically carry out a self-evaluation process designed to clarify its mission and goals, to realistically assess its success in attaining them, and to develop means of increasing its educational effectiveness.

To achieve the greatest benefit, the self-study should be inclusive and must encourage wide participation from all sectors of the school community. An institution that carries out its self-study with care and diligence in an open and honest manner, will find that it has established the foundation for school improvement and organized the system to plan for the future of the school.

For at least a year preceding an ESC certification or re-certification visit, a school devotes time and effort to intensive self-study, undertaking a thorough assessment of its resources and effectiveness. This is the most valuable part of the certification process. Ideally, institutional self-evaluation involves various elements of the academic community to reflect on the school's purposes and assess its performance and effectiveness. A well-planned and clearly focused self-evaluation should culminate in a self-assessment report which reveals areas of strength and growth.. Standard items which were not complied or partially complied with define areas for improvement.

Preliminary Activities: The Pre-Certification Visit involves:

3.2.1 Orientation of the School Community of the Certification/Recertification

To generate collective and unified action in the conduct of the school self-study, an orientation on the overview, purpose and significance of the certification process must be undertaken by the school. A multi-level approach whereby a series of orientation sessions for the administrators, teachers and staff, students, parents and other stakeholders would lead to the understanding of the certification process and competent use of the assessment instrument as well as ensure engagement of the entire school community.

3.2.2 Organization of the School Self-Study Team

The self-study is properly implemented by a well-organized school community. Towards this end, the school community members are organized into Self-Study working committees corresponding to the areas for evaluation of the Certification instrument. Assignment of the members to the working committees is based on competence and current school functions and responsibilities.

Organization of the school Self-Study Team includes understanding of the assigned Area standards and bases for evaluation, setting committee work targets, drawing a practical work schedule, meeting and consulting as scheduled, collaborating towards the completion of the assigned task and writing the Area report.

The School Self-Study Team. Ideally, the entire community is engaged in the certification process. To meet the needs of the certification preparations and the roll-out of the school self-study, the school community is organized into working committees for each evaluation area. The working committees shall have a Chairperson and three (3) to five (5) members, depending on the size of the school, representing the different school sectors. They are tasked with the factual review and assessment of the school's compliance with the minimum DepEd standards and traits of excellence as prescribed in the Certification Assessment Instrument, preparation of the area report, and collection and organization of the evidences of compliance for presentation during the certification visit.

A Self-Study Executive Committee, with the School Head or Principal as Chairperson and the Committee Chairpersons as members, oversees the self-study and certification preparations.

To coordinate the school-based certification related activities, the school should designate a liaison officer to work with the PEAC-CU. Such officer, who has been named by the school administrator, can provide an effective means of communication between the school and the Committee and of more direct participation in the certification process.

3.2.3 Review and Assessment using the 2024 CAI

As tasked, the Self-Study Working Committees review the areas of school operations and assess objectively the school's compliance of the DepEd minimum requirements and prescribed Kto12 standards. The process of self-assessment involves six steps which must be thoughtfully and diligently followed. The next part is a comprehensive walkthrough of these different steps.

The Six-Step Process for Certification Assessment includes:

3.2.3.1 Unpacking the Standards

Unpacking the standards involves understanding the standards through logical and sequential thinking and rephrasing the standard into a focus or search question, identifying the Look-Fors for each standard and extrapolating compliance evidences for the look-fors. For all these, schools may refer to the accompanying User's Guide where specific Look-fors are stated.

3.2.3.2 Gathering Evidences of Compliance with the Standards and School Performance on Recommendations

The revised Certification process is evidence-based. To assess school's compliance with the prescribed standards, the School Self-Study Committee gathers conscientiously and purposively for evidences or indicators of compliance. Evidences of compliance are those that manifest or indicate school compliance of the standards. School practices, procedures, records, documents and other expressions that could support school claims of compliance are considered evidences.

Evidence-based Approach PEAC Certification aims to ascertain school compliance of minimum DepEd requirements and attainment of prescribed standards of quality. The approach is evidenced-based and therefore, assessment of school's compliance with standards of quality depends on evidences presented and available.

Examples of Compliance Evidences (ECEs) The revised Certification process is evidence-based. To assess school's compliance with the prescribed K-12 standards, the Certification Team visits the school and reviews conscientiously and purposively the evidences or indicators of compliance presented.

Evidences of compliance are those that manifest or indicate school compliance of the standards. School practices, procedures, records, documents and other expressions that could support school claims of compliance are considered evidences.

Examples of Compliance Evidences (ECEs) for the Look-fors of each standard of every area are suggested in the Certification Assessment Instrument and the User's Guide (see Appendix). A careful study of this list, their availability in the school and the presence of the Look--fors in them make for solid evidences would lead the Working Committees in determining authentic assessment ratings.

3.2.3.3 Using the Rating Scale

A Rating scale is provided in the Certification Assessment instrument. It is used to rate how far has the school complied with the prescriptions of the standards. Since the certification assessment is evidence-based, the rating will depend largely on the evidence gathered that manifest the existence of the Look-fors defined by the standards. Explanations for the High or Low ratings are written in the Comments Section.

Example A:

In St Padre Pio High School, a medical mission from the New York Holy Angels Community Hospital has updated the school clinic and left provisions for emergency care of the school community. The school Doctor comes once a month to conduct the on-going medical check-ups. Dental check-ups are done in June by a volunteer parent-dentist. Otherwise, the clinic stays closed to keep the clinic secure because there is no one else to take on the job.

3.2.3.4 Getting the Area Rating

For the Area rating, a Decision Rule is applied (see Appendix). This Decision Rule mainly rests on the mode or the frequently appearing rating for the power standards of the area with due consideration for compliance of the support standards. This rating is descriptive of the extent of compliance of the school on the critical items that attain effectiveness of the area.

Example A: Area H

Standard	Rating
1. *	2
3.	3
4. *	3
5. *	2
6. - *	2

Summary Table for Area H

	4	3	2	1	0
Power*	0	1	6	2	0
Support	0	1	0	0	0
Area Rating	2

Given the summary, the mode for the Power Standards is 2 with a rating of 3 in the Support Standard. Applying the Decision Rule for Area Ratings which specifies “2 – For a mode of 2 in the Power Standards” therefore, the Area Rating is 2.

Example B: Area I

Standard	Rating
1. - *	3
2. *	2
3. *	1
4. *	1
5.	1

Summary Table for Area I

	4	3	2	1	0
Area Rating	1

Given the above, there are two (2) modes for the Power Standards: 2 and 1. In cases when there are two (2) modes, the mean is used. The computed mean for the Power Standards ( $9 / 5 = 1.8$ ) rounded to the lower number which is 1. Applying the Decision Rule for Area Ratings which specifies 1 – For a Mode of 1 in the Power Standards therefore the Area Rating is 1.

3.2.3.5 Writing the Recommendations for School Improvement

After the Area Ratings have been discerned by the School Self-Study Committee, the strengths and weaknesses of the school in each area shall have been delineated. Those standards rated 2, 1 or 0 compose the recommendations towards full compliance and are reflected in the school continuing planning for improvement.

Example 1: Area E.VI

In the Area of Faculty or Standard 3.1, the Team rated the school 2 because the provisions of seminars and workshops covered only the domains of Content and Pedagogy, Learning Environment, Curriculum and Planning, and Personal Growth and Professional Development of the 2017 Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers.

So the Recommendation is written as:

3.2.3.6 Getting the Overall School Rating and Certification Status

The Overall school rating and certification status is the summary of all the Area ratings, with exception of the Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives. A Summary Table is provided for this.

An inspection of the ratings and their conformity with all the prescriptions of the Decision Rule for Overall School Rating and Certification is done (see Appendix).

Example G:

Summary Table A

AREAS	AREA RATING
A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives	NA
B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction	3
C. Instructional Leadership	3
D. Faculty	3
E. Academic Support and Student Development Services	3
F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities	3
G. Administration and Governance	3
H. School Budget and Finances	2
I. Institutional Planning and Development	2
General Rating	3

In the above example, the Core Areas B, C, D, and G have Area Ratings of 3 and Area Ratings of 3 and 2 in the Support Areas. Using the Decision Rule for Overall Certification Rating which specifies “3 – For a Rating of 3 in ALL Core Areas and 2 or higher in the Support Areas” therefore, the Overall Certification Rating is 3.

Example H:

Summary Table B

AREAS	AREA RATING
A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives	NA
B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction	3
C. Instructional Leadership	3
D. Faculty	2
E. Academic Support and Student Development Services	3
F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities	3
G. Administration and Governance	3
H. School Budget and Finances	3
I. Institutional Planning and Development	3
General Rating	2

SUBSTANTIAL COMPLIANCE

In the example, the Core Areas B, C and G have Area Ratings of 3 but 2 for Area D and 3 for all the Support Areas. Using the Decision Rule for Overall Certification Rating which specifies “3 – For a Rating of 3 in ALL Core Areas and 2 or higher in the Support Areas” since NOT ALL Core Areas have a Rating of 3, even if all the Support Area Ratings are above 2, the Overall Certification Rating is lowered to 2. In this case, NOT ALL the prescriptions of the Decision Rule have been satisfied so the next lower rating is applied.

Example I:

Summary Table C

AREAS	AREA RATING
A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives	NA
B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction	2
C. Instructional Leadership	2
D. Faculty	2
E. Academic Support and Student Development Services	2
F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities	2
G. Administration and Governance	3

H. School Budget and Finances	2
I. Institutional Planning and Development	3
General Rating	2

PARTIAL COMPLIANCE

In the example, ALL Core Areas have a rating of 2; and 2 and 3 in the Support Areas. Using the Decision Rule which specifies “2 – For a Rating of 2 in ALL Core Areas and 2 or higher in the Support Areas”, the Overall Rating is 2.

Example J:

Summary Table D

AREAS	AREA RATING
A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives	NA
B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction	2
C. Instructional Leadership	2
D. Faculty	1
E. Academic Support and Student Development Services	1
F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities	2
G. Administration and Governance	3
H. School Budget and Finances	1
I. Institutional Planning and Development	3
General Rating	1

LIMITED COMPLIANCE

In the example, the Core Areas D and E are rated 1 and Support Area H is rated 1. Using the Decision Rule which specifies “2 – For a Rating of 2 in ALL Core Areas and 2 or higher in the Support Areas, because NOT ALL Core Areas have a rating 2 (only 2 Areas), and NOT ALL Support Areas are rated 2 or higher, the Overall Rating is lowered to 1. In this case, NOT ALL the prescriptions of the Decision Rule have been satisfied so the next lower rating is applied.

3.2.4 Presentation of the Self-Study Findings to the School Community

The Self-Study findings is compiled by the Self-Study Executive Committee chaired by the School Head/ Principal and presented to the entire school community. It is then submitted to the PEAC-CU through the EIS-CS at least one month before the schedule of the certification visit.

3.2.5 Preparation of the Standards-Based School Improvement Plan

The Self-Study findings pinpoint the standards complied by the school as well as those which have not been complied or partially complied with. To assure school quality, plans towards purposive compliance of these standards are plotted by the Planning Committee composed of sectoral representatives of the school community in a Standards-based School Improvement Plan with implementation details spreading across three (3) years. A simple format defining the targeted standards, objectives, desired outputs, implementation steps, specific time frame, monitoring mechanisms, persons responsible budget and budget sources is suggested by PEAC (see Appendix).

Area is stated. Standard of Compliance item is stated containing parts that need to be implemented or improved.	Goals are written as specific, measurable, attainable, realistic and time bound.	End result of the various actions steps is clearly described in line with the desired improvement plan area.	Action steps show a detailed and logical process of achieving the SMART Goals and accomplishing the output.	Dates of expected accomplishment of the output are stated and achievable.	A system of reviewing and evaluating the accomplishment of the different action steps and achieving the output is described in detail.	Key point persons responsible for the accomplishment of the SMART Goals are clearly identified and stated. The person has sufficient experience to achieve the goals.	Amount is stated along with the source from the school budget. Amount is sufficient to achieve the output.

Rubric of Area's Standards-Based School Improvement Plan

2 SMART GOALS	Goals are written as specific, measurable, attainable, realistic and time bound.	Goals are partially written as specific, measurable, attainable, realistic and time bound.	No goals are stated.
3 OUTPUT	End result is aligned with the requirements of the standards.	End result is inconsistently aligned with the requirements of the standards.	No output is stated.
4 ACTION STEPS	Action steps show a detailed and logical process of achieving the SMART Goals and accomplishing the output.	Action steps are vague and do not show a particular sequence for achieving the SMART Goal and accomplishing the output.	No action steps are described.
5 TIME PERIOD	Dates of expected accomplishment of the output are stated and achievable.	Dates of expected accomplishment of the output are stated but challenging to meet.	No dates of expected accomplishment are stated.
6 MONITORING SYSTEM	A system of reviewing and evaluating the accomplishment of the different action steps and achieving the output is described in detail.	A system of reviewing and evaluating the accomplishment of the different action steps and achieving the output is inconsistent in several parts.	No system and dates of monitoring are given.

7 PERSON IN CHARGE	Key point persons responsible for the accomplishment of the SMART Goals are clearly identified and stated. The person has sufficient experience to achieve the goals.	Key point persons responsible for the accomplishment of the SMART Goals are vaguely identified and stated. The person lacks relevant experience to achieve the goals.	No person in charge is identified.
8 BUDGET AND BUDGET SOURCE	Amount is stated along with the source from the school budget. Amount is sufficient to achieve the output.	Amount is stated along with the source from the school budget. Amount is questionable to achieve the output.	No budget and budget source are stated.

Example A:

In St Padre Pio High School, a medical mission from the New York Holy Angels Community Hospital has updated the school clinic and left provisions for emergency care of the school community. The school Doctor comes once a month to conduct the on-going medical check-ups. Dental check-ups are done in June by a volunteer parent-dentist. ### 3.2.6 Preparation and Submission of the Self-Study Report

The self-study report is a summary of findings of the review and assessment of the school programs and services by the self-study working committees and other pertinent information regarding the school and school community. The report is presented as:

Part I.

Scanned copies of the following documents must be uploaded in the EIS.

1. Securities And Exchange Commission (Sec) Registration
This is the Certificate of Incorporation.
2. Government Recognition for Junior High School Program
The school name in the Government Recognition must be the same school name in the SEC Registration. A certificate from DepEd must be submitted should there be a discrepancy in school name.
3. General Information Sheet
This is the General Information Sheet for 2023 onwards, with SEC barcode, stamp, or QR. The complete document must be submitted (all pages included).
4. Audited Financial Statement
This is the Audited Financial Statement for 2023 onwards, with the independent auditor's report. The complete document must be submitted (all pages included).
5. School Calendar for Current School Year
This includes the Junior High School Daily Class Schedule for current School Year.

Part II.

The information for the following requirements must be encoded in the EIS. Use current School Year data.

1. Duly accomplished 2018 CAI
2. School's Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals, and Objectives (PVMGO)
3. BEIS or School Profile
4. Faculty and Personnel Profile
5. School's Actions on Previous Team's Recommendation
6. Enrollment List SF1
7. Attendance Sheet SF2
8. Five (5) Samples of ESC Grantee Folders per JHS Grade Level

Part III.

The Examples for Compliance Evidences (ECEs) for current School Year must be uploaded in a Google Drive. The link to the Google Drive must be submitted via the EIS.

3.2.7 How To Use The EIS

EIS – Certification System: School Panel

Login to EIS:

1. The school is issued by the PEAC Information Technology and Information Management (ITIM) Unit with an Enterprise Information System (EIS) account.
2. The school receives the login credentials via their registered email.
3. If the person assigned to manage the EIS forgets their username and password, the Forgot Password facility on the login page may be used.

Non-Disclosure Agreement

Upon initial login for the school year, the Data Policy Agreement (DPA) must be accomplished to proceed to the system. This is to ensure that confidentiality is being observed by all parties accessing sensitive personal information.

Read and understand the DPA before agreeing to and accepting its terms and conditions.

PEAC – EIS Homepage

School Year

1. Make sure that the EIS- Certification System (CS) setting is under the current school year.

School Information

1. Complete and/or update the School Information to provide the system the data it needs to generate pertinent documents related to Certification such as the Final Rating Report.

PEAC – EIS Certification System

Quicklinks

Under the Quicklinks, locate the Certification System. It opens a new window to access the Certification System for submitting the required ESC documentary requirements.

PART I

The school submits four (4) initial documentary requirements for verification through upload bins:

- a. SEC Registration (or the Certificate of Incorporation)
- b. Government Recognition for the Junior High School program
- c. latest Audited Financial Statement, and
- d. latest General Information Sheet

PART II

The school submits the following documentary requirements for verification through upload bins or accomplishment of forms:

- a. 2018 CAI Self-Assessment
- b. Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals, and Objectives (PVMGO)
- c. School Profile, Faculty Profile, and Personnel Profile (of the current school year)
- d. School's Actions on Previous Team's Recommendation
- e. Enrollment List or SF1 (of the current school year)
- f. Attendance List or SF2 (of the current school year)
- g. Sample Student Folder of ESC Grantees

PART III

The school submits the link to their Google Drive where the Examples of Compliance Evidences (ECEs) are uploaded.

ATTESTATION

Once all documents have been submitted, encoded, and verified, the school may proceed with the attestation. If attestation has been made, no further revision, edits, or reuploading may be done. To remove attestation, school must request through certification@peac.org.ph

3.2.9 Preparation of Compliance Evidences

In anticipation of the certification visit, the school through the Self-Study Executive Committee undertakes the school preparations. The Self-Study Working Committees prepare the evidences of compliance for their assigned areas while the different service unit heads and learning area heads put together their performance reports, records, documents and files. A systemic display of these compliance evidences is mounted to facilitate the study and perusal of these documents by the certification team. Overall school campus clean-up makes for a warm and welcoming ambiance.

The School Self-Study Report is submitted to PEAC-CU online at least one month before the scheduled visit.

II. The Types of Certification Visit

The Certification/Recertification visit is the next phase of the certification process. This comes after the school has carried out its self-study, prepared and submitted a report to the PEAC-CU along with basic required supporting documents.

There could be four (4) types of Visit:

A type. A certification visit to an applicant school. This is scheduled after the the applicant school submits a Letter of Intent and initial requirements such as Dep Ed Recognition, updated AFS, SEC and GIS. Applicant schools which failed the certification (with ratings of 1 or 0 in all Core Areas may reapply only after 3 years).

B type. A recertification visit to ESC Participating Schools, for continued participation:

- On the 5th year, for an OverAll rating of 4
- On the 4th year, for an OverAll Rating of 3

- C type.* A revisit to ESC Participating Schools, for continued participation:
- On the 3rd year, for an Overall Rating of 2 but with a rating of 3 and above in at least 2 Core Areas : SUBSTANTIAL COMPLIANCE
  - On the 2nd year, for an Overall Rating of 2: PARTIAL COMPLIANCE
  - On the 1st year, for an Overall Rating of 1 but with a rating of 2 and above in at least 2 Core Areas : LIMITED COMPLIANCE for continued participation and eventual attainment of certification.

A revisit is also conducted to schools with adverse findings, after monitoring, for continued participation.

D type. A special visit conducted to assess compliance and verify evidences such as submitted school documents, videos, taped presentations and interviews, etc at an agreed out-of-campus venue. This is for schools located in highly inaccessible areas and/or high-risk locations.

The certification visit is conducted to validate the school self-study report. It is the Certification Team's responsibility to study the submitted information and acknowledge the school's valuation and views before these are verified against evidences presented and gathered during the visit.

3.3.1 In-Person Certification Visit Protocols:

3.3.2 The Certification Visit requires the following:

1. Regular Conduct of Classes. The Certification Team comes to the school with a pre-set schedule of classroom observations. To ensure that the team gathers a comprehensive picture of the teaching and learning situation, student performance and teacher performance in the Kto12 standards, competencies and learning goals, at least 80-100% of the classes and teachers for schools with 600 or less students and 70%-85% for schools with more than 600 students have been observed. The "Evaluation Instrument for Classroom Instruction" (see Appendix) is used for this. To facilitate this, floor plans and a school map must be provided each certifier. All classrooms and learning spaces must be labelled. The class program and the teachers program must be submitted the PEAC-CU together with the Self-Study Report.
2. Availability of the School Heads, Administrators and School Community Representatives for interviews. The Certification Team conducts interviews any time during the visit to put together a cross-sectional view of the school through data gathered from all sectors of the school community. Views and information from the multi-sectoral groups in the school will contribute to authentic validation of the School Self-Study.
3. Attendance of Selected Students during Meetings. The Certification Team Chair selects at random around 30-40 student representatives from each section and grade level to attend the meeting with the Team and allows the school to include 10 students in the said meeting. In some instances, brief informal meetings with students of random groupings are conducted to seek additional needed information and verify issues. This meeting elicits from students their experiences, observations and views on school practices, ways and culture.
4. Attendance of Faculty and Staff during Meetings. This meeting aims to get the assessment on school performance, personal and group experiences, and views on the school situation of the faculty and staff. Administrators are not allowed in this meeting.

5. Attendance of Parents and/or Alumni during Meetings. This meeting considers the role of parents and alumni in the attainment of the school philosophy, vision, mission, goals and objectives. This meeting allows the parents to express their opinion on school performance and operations and share their participation in school undertakings.
6. Availability of Documents, Records, Manuals, etc. in the Certification Display Room. To verify the School Self-Study report and ratings, the Certification Team searches for solid evidences of compliance for the Look-Fors of the standards. This involves an objective and critical study of the school documents, records, manuals, ledgers, minutes, profiles, etc. a list of Examples of Compliance Evidences are included in the Certification Assessment Instrument (see Appendix).
7. Access to Offices, Classrooms, Learning Spaces and Student Service Centers. Part of the assessment visit is the ocular inspection of the school buildings, rooms, library, laboratories, clinic, canteen and administrative offices to check on their compliance with the specifications of DepEd, National Building Code, Energy Management Board and Department of Health among others.

This one-day onsite certification visit by the commissioned team of certifiers is doubly important for the following reasons:

1. It offers the opportunity to gather additional information needed to affirm or deny the findings of the self-evaluation report. The team checks records/supporting documents, clarifies its understanding of all parts of the organizational set up, probes deeper on some points, makes sample studies and spot checks, inquires into significant matters not covered in the report, observes intangibles (e.g. organizational climate and culture), and talks with a sample of students, teachers, administrators and parents.
2. It stimulates further institutional growth and development in three ways:
  - a. The scheduled visit presents an opportunity to induce critical self-analysis, invigorate the school organization and engage all sectors of the school community.
  - b. The interchange of information and viewpoints and raising of questions during interviews should generate worthwhile ideas, affirm initiatives, build confidence as well as challenge practices and perspectives.
  - c. The areas of strengths and growth pointed out by the certification team chart the course for the school's improvement map.

3.3.4 Protocols for (Re)Certification of Schools in High-Risk Areas

PEAC is one with DepEd in its commitment to provide everyone with access to quality education, even to those in far-flung and high-risk areas. In this pursuit, a special set of protocols have been devised to facilitate the visits of schools in these areas with due regard for the safety and security of the Certification Team that will be deployed.

High-risk areas are places where there is armed conflict or tension. This also includes islands which are inaccessible on specific months of the year due to unfavorable climate, weather and environmental conditions.

A safe and neutral venue is selected for the certification visit.

Pre-Certification Activities:

1. Submission to PEAC availability to be certified/recertified
2. Sending of the list of required documents and alternative ECEs (see Appendix) that must be submitted to PEAC-CU such as video of class instruction, recorded statements of sectoral representatives of the school community, narratives, pictures, etc.; list of requirements can also be downloadable from the PEAC website
3. Preparation of documents and other other evidences of compliance.
4. Deciding on the list of school representatives who will go to meet the Certification Team
5. Communicating and working with the PEAC-enlisted school for mounting of the exhibit display

During-the-Visit Activities:

1. Sitting for interviews

After-the-Visit Activities:

1. Studying Certification results
2. Using Recommendations as Guides to School Improvement Planning and Revision of SSIP.

III. The Post Certification Visit: The Institutionalization of School Improvement.

3.4.1 After-the-Visit Activities: This phase starts after the school receives the Overall School Certification Rating and Status from the PEAC-CU with a set of recommendations for school improvement. This involves after-the-visit activities the school must undertake to instill quality and pursue school improvement in its programs and services, such as:

1. Disseminate the (Re)Certification results according to school guidelines for appropriate action;
2. Integrate the certification status and rating in the school's general scheme of things, i.e., school improvement plan, work calendar, etc;
3. Revise the SSIP to include the Certification Team's recommendations;
4. Implement the Certification Team's recommendations and the SSIP;
5. Utilize Area ratings to improve specific areas in particular and the school operations in general.

School Certification Status. The school certification status is duly endorsed and recommended by commissioned certifiers based on a consensus overall certification rating.

3.4.2 Periodic Review of ESC School Certification Status

As part of the quality assurance policy of the Department of Education, ESC participating schools shall be reviewed periodically. The evaluation and quality of ESC School certification are intended to foster continuing compliance with the DepEd minimum standards and assurance that the criteria set in the GASTPE Law are complied with. It also aims to establish a continuing process of self-appraisal for the improvement of the private Junior High schools.

The certified ESC participating private schools shall be monitored by PEAC-CU so that timely intervention and coaching can be implemented to assure fulfillment of their accountability function

4.0 THE CERTIFICATION TEAM

The responsibility for the implementation of the certification visit rests in large measure on the duly trained and PEAC-commissioned ESC school certifiers. The roster of school certifiers includes experienced educators who are adept in school administration. They are the ones assigned by the PEAC-CU to conduct the verification visits of ESC participating schools applying for initial certification or for re-certification status. Composing the verifying team is crucial, and should be carefully done to avoid any real or perceived conflict of interest.

4.1 Composition: The Certification Team is composed of the Team Chair, one (1) to two (2) members depending on the school population size, and representative from the PEAC-CU as staff. Basing on the members' expertise and specializations, the PEAC-CU deploys them as certifiers for the Core or Support areas. However, all certifiers conduct observation of classes to assess classroom instruction and its interplay in the certifiers' assigned area of evaluation.

One of the strengths of the entire evaluation process is the variety of approaches, backgrounds, and experience brought to it by team members. Team members are expected to conduct inquiries as colleagues in the profession rather than censorious inspectors, and to ascertain how well the philosophy, vision, mission, goals and objectives and the Kto12 program are realized in campus practice. The main task is to verify the school self-evaluation report on compliance with standards against evidences presented during the visit and or school plans towards their compliance.

A fair evaluation assesses both strengths and weaknesses of the school. Noteworthy achievements and/or special potentials should receive praise. If team members give the impression that their purpose is to uncover only weaknesses, more harm than good will be done. Schools expect – and deserve – the assistance of honest, constructive criticism. Neglecting to point out the positive side of an evaluation can diminish both the usefulness and validity of negative observations.

Team members should be prepared to work with diligence during the certification visit. There is no time for anything except the team tasks. The rewards of the experience usually are greater than the demands it makes – interaction with campus people and team colleagues, the opportunity to gain a thorough knowledge of an institution other than one's own, and involvement in a significant effort to improve private secondary education. A team visit is helpful to the school being certified but it is also an extremely valuable professional experience for the visiting certifiers.

5.0 ETHICS IN THE CERTIFICATION PROCESS

ETHICS IN AND INTEGRITY OF THE CERTIFICATION PROCESS

The principles, guidelines and protocols for the certification process facilitate proper conduct and ensure its integrity. During the entire process, the schools must:

- 1.2.1 Maintain objectivity, transparency and truthfulness in the school self-assessment
- 1.2.2 Observe PEAC prescribed guidelines and protocols
- 1.2.3 Show trust in the competence and objectivity of the certifiers and respect for their decisions and recommendations
- 1.2.4 Keep open-mindedness and acceptance for certification results
- 1.2.5 Keep in mind the main purpose of the certification process which is school improvement

Consequently, the schools are encouraged to:

- a. Observe punctuality in scheduled activities during the visit
- b. Be available during the duration of the visit
- c. Avoid socialization with the Certification Team and the PEAC-CU
- d. Avoid offering favors as expressions of gratitude. The certifiers are deployed as resources of PEAC.
- e. Avoid soliciting the services of the members of the Certification Team for consultancy after the visit

APPENDICES

6.1: SCHOOL YEAR 2024 ESC (RE-) CERTIFICATION ASSESSMENT INSTRUMENT

Background and Rationale

A Junior High School participating in the Educational Service Contracting (ESC) Program of the Department of Education (DepEd) is expected to fully comply with the minimum standards for secondary educational institutions. It must also be committed to become an effective school in delivering quality educational programs and services in line with the goals and objectives of the Kto12 curriculum program. DepEd enjoins participating private schools to ensure that ESC student grantees are offered an academically challenging Junior High School education in an environment of values, trust and loyalty. ESC grantees, along with other private Junior High School students, will have acquired the knowledge and developed the skills necessary for success in higher educational pursuits and in a wide range of careers.

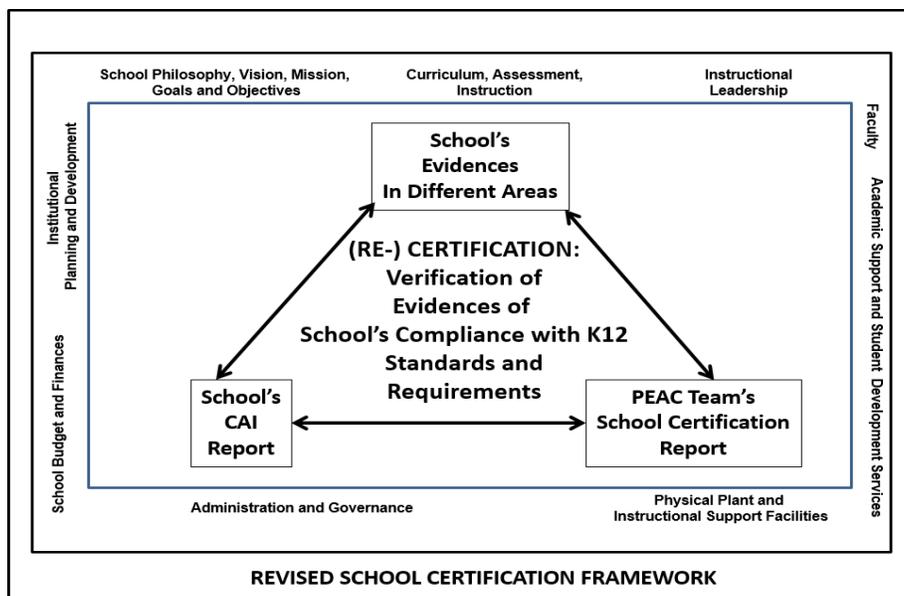

The Department of Education (DepEd) has commissioned the Private Education Assistance Committee (PEAC), through its National Secretariat, to establish a quality assurance certification mechanism that would confirm ESC participating private junior high schools' compliance with DepEd's standards for recognition. A certified ESC school therefore is one which has complied with all DepEd standards, adheres to applicable DepEd policies and meets the requirements of the self-study procedure prescribed by the PEAC National Secretariat ESC Certification Unit. Through this assessment instrument, an ESC school is assisted to determine its strength and potentials for becoming a more effective educational institution. The government, through the Department of Education, has looked into the facilities and physical resources of the school prior to the granting of recognition. Therefore, this assessment instrument focuses more on the functional use of these facilities and resources, rather than the provision thereof.

Standards in an Evidence-based Framework

A basic framework of a quality educational system is one that succeeds in meeting its own goals; relevant to the needs of students, communities and society; and fosters the ability of students to acquire knowledge and critical learning skills. Quality is not the only factor keeping students out of school but it is when effective learning is not taking place, that parents are more likely to withdraw their children from school early or not send them at all. Improving the school's quality is therefore essential to achieving the goal of universal access to and completion of basic education. This ESC School (Re-) Certification Instrument is designed to basically assess the extent of compliance with the DepEd Minimum Quality Standards as well as to evaluate the school's characteristics, its qualitative indicators of excellence, and its level of performance vis-à-vis the K to12 program. These standards contain specific criteria which ensure that the school is functional and engaged in self-assessment for continuous school improvement.

This is a quality assurance tool aimed at building effective and high performing Junior High Schools through continuous focused improvement efforts that are aligned with Kto12 standards. Being so, evidence of compliance with standards and demonstration of quality needs to be gathered and examined throughout the certification process. Area items for evaluation as well as the rating scale prompt the school and certifiers to search for evidences in the school system that are in line with the standards for compliance. On the next page is a diagram of the role these evidences play in the entire certification process:

At the center of the diagram is the emphasis of obtaining evidence of the school’s compliance with the K12 standards. Schools applying for certification or re-certification prepare a report of their self-assessment of compliance with the standards in each area of the Certification Assessment Instrument or CAI. The school’s assessment is based on their evidence for the items in these nine different areas, of which are found on the outer frame of the diagram above. Hence, the school also puts together the different evidences that support their self-rating. During the certification visit, the team of certifiers verify the school’s CAI report and examine the different evidences presented. Thus, instead of ascertaining the school’s level of meeting the standards based on their perception, this instrument prompts certifiers to verify in more concrete terms the extent of evidences the school actually has. By shifting the focus to observable and tangible evidences, both school and certifiers have a common basis for evaluation. For the school and certifiers’ guidance, a section on Examples of Compliance Evidence is found at the end of every area. Decisions about the final certification status are made in line with the presentation and examination of evidences.

The revision/updating of existing standards of compliance in the 2018 JHS CAI and the identification and articulation of new items is premised on five dimensions. The different area items promote quality education when the items are able to manifest or reflect any of these five dimensions namely, vision/mission-oriented, standards-aligned, developmentally appropriate, outcomes-driven and evidence-based. What do each of these dimensions mean?

Vision/Mission-Oriented: As part of their identity as a private educational institution, private schools articulate and carry out their own vision and mission, philosophy of education, goals and objectives. The school’s vision and mission statements define the school’s purpose and direction. Private schools achieve quality when the school is able to operationalize the vision and mission in the different aspects of school work. The 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance then determine how the different policies, programs and services in the nine school areas are oriented to realizing the vision and mission statement. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI asks the following questions: How vision and mission-oriented are the different school areas in their policies, programs and services? To what extent is the school’s vision-mission accomplished in the nine school areas?

Standards-Aligned: With the passage of RA10533 or the 2013 Enhanced Basic Education Act, all basic education schools are mandated to teach the Department of Education’s K to 12 curriculum program. The program contains curriculum standards and competencies for students to learn. As a private entity, JHS are also enjoined to comply with the provisions of the 2010 Revised Manual of Regulation for Private Schools. Private schools thus show quality when these standards are adopted, implemented and used for evaluation in the nine school areas. For these reasons, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance examine how the school’s curriculum, instruction and assessment are aligned with and utilize these standards. With this second dimension, the 2024

PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance raise the question: To what extent is the school implementing the K12 program standards and other requirements in the nine school areas?

Developmentally-Appropriate: Students in the JHS level develop and realize their potentials when the school provides them research-based teaching and learning experiences that attend to their developmental needs and nurture their growth in different domains (i.e., physical and motor, social-emotional, character and values, cognitive and intellectual, language, mathematical and creative-aesthetic). Consequently, private JHSs manifest quality when the policies, programs and services in the nine school areas are formulated, undertaken and assessed in accordance with the student's developmental requirements and milestones. The 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance gauge how the school incorporates the students' background, needs, learning styles and abilities when planning, implementing and evaluating policies, programs and services. In this third dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance focus on the following question: To what extent are the different developmental needs of students addressed in the nine school areas?

Outcomes-driven: Schools are outcomes-driven when they focus on results that represent students' performance of expected skills as well as each department or program's achievement of stated goals. Private JHS rate high on quality when first, their students in various assessments reliably and consistently demonstrate the skills required at a certain grade level or higher and second, when their programs and services accomplish their specific targets. In line with this, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance measure and report students' achievement levels and program results. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance examine the following: To what extent are students able to demonstrate knowledge, understanding and performance of learning standards and competencies? To what extent are the students able to accomplish the milestones in the different domains of development? To what extent are programs and services in the nine school areas able to produce desired results?

Evidence-based. Successful JHS regularly obtain data and employ various metrics to present and showcase their pupils' achievement and effectiveness of their programs and services. They also search for and document valid and authentic examples of students' achievement, learning interventions and program results. Private JHS undertake these tasks with transparency and rigor. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance check on the following: To what extent is the school able to support its claims of students' achievements and program effectiveness in the nine school areas?

These five dimensions are integrated throughout the instrument. Every JHS CAI area has items that reflect these dimensions. For example, in the area of Instructional Leadership, item 1 (The provision of a system that actively communicates to various stakeholders the school's Vision, Mission, and Kto12 standards and directions and school's development and innovations in curriculum, assessment and instruction) is vision-mission oriented and standards-aligned. In the Area of Academic Support and Student Development Services, item 3 (A program for inventory and testing services to gather information on students' psychological and emotional make-up, academic progress and difficulties, and occupational and career interests) is about the developmentally-appropriate dimension. Item 3 in Instructional Leadership (Regular collection, interpretation and dissemination of data on student learning and performance to top and key school leaders towards informed decision-making) cover the outcomes-driven and evidence-based dimensions. Through the integration of these five dimensions, school administrators can understand the basis for specification of standards of compliance in the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI.

Instrument Areas

This instrument covers different areas of school operations that produce quality student performance and organizational effectiveness. These areas are:

- A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives
- B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction
- C. Instructional Leadership
- D. Faculty
- E. Academic Support and Student Development Services
- F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities
- G. Administration and Governance
- H. School Budget and Finances
- I. Institutional Planning and Development

The above areas are clustered into two groups – Core and Support. The Core group of areas covers sections deemed essential to teaching and learning. These areas are Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives; Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction; Instructional Leadership; Faculty; and Administration and Governance. The Support group of areas includes school operations that are undertaken in the context of and based on the direction of the Core group of areas. These areas are Academic Support and Student Development Services; Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities; School Budget and Finance; and Planning and Development. Observation of Classroom Instruction is a significant aspect in the area of Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction.

Each area consists of a set of standards for compliance. The standards are drawn from various sources such as the Kto12 Curriculum Program Standards and the Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers. In the Core group of areas, certain items regarded as power standards are marked with an asterisk (*). These standards are critical to the effectiveness of a particular area as these illustrate its key characteristics. Other items that are not marked are regarded as support standards which contribute to or supplement the achievement of a power standard. These items are done in relation to the direction of the power standards. Schools are then rated according to their extent of showing evidence of compliance with the standards.

Format of the Survey Instrument and the Rating Process

Each Area is introduced by an explanatory paragraph presenting the basis of evaluation. The Area lists the standards for compliance. A list of Examples of Compliance Evidences is given for the school's guidance during its self-assessment and preparation of exhibits and documents. With the exception of the area on "School Philosophy, Goals and Objectives", standards in each area are accompanied by the following rating scale:

Rating	Description
4	Evidence of compliance with standard and enhancements is presented
3	Evidence of compliance with standard is presented
2	Partial evidence of compliance with standard is presented
1	No evidence of compliance with standard is presented but plan of action in line with compliance is presented
0	No evidence of compliance with standard nor plan of action is presented

Basing on the evidences presented, individual standards are rated. Upon completion of the individual standard rating, the area rating is determined and recorded according to a decision rule that examines the school's level of compliance. Details of the decision rule are found in Appendix A. A Comments Section is provided for observations and other remarks.

After all areas are rated, another decision rule is applied to determine the final general rating. Details of this decision rule are also found in Appendix A. The final rating then serves as basis of the school's overall certification result. See Appendix A for the different possible certification results.

A. PHILOSOPHY, VISION, MISSION, GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Description

The school philosophy vision, mission, goals and objectives present the overall direction of the school's educational work. The statements clearly describe the school's fundamental educational purposes, and the essence of what it is seeking to achieve as a community of learners. These serve as the basis for daily operational and instructional decision making as well as long-range planning.

Basis of Evaluation

The school philosophy, vision, mission, goals and objectives are evident in the school in various ways. The statements are used to determine the extent to which policies, practices, resources, and curricular and other program components work together conceptually, structurally, and operationally to achieve stated expectations for teaching and learning. There is a regular system of communicating and disseminating the contents of the school philosophy, vision, mission, goals, and objectives to the different sectors and stakeholders of the school community. Through this system, all the members and stakeholders of the school community are able to articulate a common understanding of and commitment to institutional goals, curriculum priorities, learning approaches, assessment procedures, and accountability as well as accept responsibility for the students' attainment of the curriculum standards. This PVMGO is also aligned with the community it serves and is reviewed periodically by stakeholder representatives.

Standards of Compliance	Accomplished	Not Accomplished
1. A clear, unique, well-aligned, active and living statement of philosophy, vision, mission, goal and objectives
2. A philosophy that expresses the school community's shared values and beliefs about education and student learning
3. School goals and objectives that are supportive of the Philippine Kto12 Educational program and are consistent with national and global development goals
4. A program that disseminates to and orients the school community on the importance and meaning of the PVMGO
5. Participation of various stakeholders in review and revision, when appropriate, of the PVMGO

B. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND INSTRUCTION

Description

The quality of instruction in a school is the most important factor affecting the quality of student learning, the achievement of expectations for student learning, the delivery of the curriculum, and the assessment of student progress. The school's instructional program is grounded in the school's mission and expectations for student learning, supported by researches on best practices, and refined and improved based on identified student needs.

With the passage of the Enhanced Basic Education Act of 2013, the Department of Education mandates that schools work towards the holistic development of the Filipino child with 21st century skills to enable him or her to be locally and globally competitive; and schools implement and teach the Kto12 standards-based curriculum.

Basis of Evaluation

The implementation of the Kto12 standards-based curriculum is evident in the school when various instructional and assessment practices are aligned with the standards and competencies found in the various subject curriculum guides. The unpacking and use of these standards as well as their alignments with instruction and assessment is consistently done across grade levels and various subjects and presented in different documents such as the school's curriculum map and learning plans. Students' learning progression from one grade level to the next is also clearly articulated in terms of observable skills and is related to the performance of 21st century skills.

Qualitative and quantitative evidences of student attainment of the standards are actively gathered, analyzed and used to evaluate and improve student learning, curriculum effectiveness, instructional practices, professional development, and support services. Progress, as well as achievements in student learning and their development and performance of 21st century skills, is undertaken in both formative and summative assessments. Results of such assessments are accurately, clearly, and systematically reported to the school community and actively utilized. Appropriate interventions are identified and undertaken in response to student's learning difficulties.

Instruction is well-designed using the standards. Instructional time is spent in enabling students to achieve the learning goals of the standards and show evidence of mastering the competencies. Various research-based and learner-centered teaching strategies are utilized to ensure student success and performance of 21st century skills. Instructional materials and the use of technology are available and support the goals of instruction. The criteria for the selection, acquisition or preparation of these materials or resources is aligned with the requirements and attainment of the curriculum standards.

Description

As the designated leader of the school, the principal works to ensure that the learning goals of the Kto12 standards-based curriculum are achieved. The principal is therefore primarily an instructional leader who continuously seeks ways to improve the school's teaching-learning processes and environments and improve student performance.

Basis of Evaluation

The principal effectively functions as an instructional leader in a number of significant activities. The principal communicates to all sectors and stakeholders the directions of the school's Vision and Mission and the desired learning outcomes of the Kto12 standards-based curriculum program. The principal designs and implements a system for aligning the different school operations and departments with the school Vision and Mission and the learning outcomes of the Kto12 standards-based curriculum program. The principal initiates changes in instructional and assessment practices to make learning more relevant, meaningful and evident for all students. The principal actively monitors and provides feedback to different sectors on their implementation of and contributions to the accomplishment of the Kto12 curriculum goals. The principal supports the professional growth of the faculty and staff and encourages them to adopt a growth mindset and become lifelong learners in the understanding and practice of relevant 21st century pedagogies. The principal provides time for teachers to collaborate on analyzing data on student performance and planning interventions for higher student achievement. The principal also manages the school's resources and funds to provide the needed instructional facilities and materials for successful teaching.

D. FACULTY

Description

The school recruits, hires and maintains faculty who are licensed, qualified, competent, and sufficient in number to effectively enable the school and the specific educational programs offered to accomplish their purposes. Faculty assignments are such that faculty members are able to carry out their duties effectively. Faculty members have adequate time to prepare and provide effective instruction, advice and evaluate students, continue professional growth, and participate in service activities expected by the school. The student-faculty ratio is consistent with the size, scope, goals, and the specific purposes and requirements of the programs offered. All faculty members are able to guide student learning and to communicate personal knowledge and experience effectively.

Basis of Evaluation

Feedback on the faculty's performance is given in different ways. The school regularly conducts annual faculty performance appraisals and clinical supervision to help faculty assess themselves and improve on their performance. The school also offers varied professional development opportunities to upgrade the faculty's competence and deepen their understanding of their particular functions. The design of the professional development program is guided by the school's philosophy/mission and aligned with the 2017 Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers.

Description

Academic Support Services and Student Development services work together to accomplish the school's curriculum goals and assist in its evaluation and enhancement. These academic support service units as measures of quality facilitate the efficient and effective curriculum implementation and instructional delivery: Registrar's Office, Library-IMC and Laboratories. The admission policy should be consistent with the PVMGO of the school and its effectiveness is in its predictive ability of the learner's academic potentials.

Basis of Evaluation

Recording of student admission, progress and achievement and preparations of transcripts of records, certificates and diplomas and organization of learners' academic data are done in the Registrar's Office. Adequacy, accessibility and confidentiality of these data are measures of quality.

The Library- Instructional Media Center is the principal educational-print, non-print and digital resource-repository of the school. The Library-IMC is designed to facilitate active and inquiry-based learning, individual and self-paced study and research, and leisurely reading. It serves as an integral part of every learners' educational experience. Accessibility, up-datedness, and adequacy in scope, quantity, timeliness and relevance are measures of quality.

The Laboratories include the Sciences Laboratories: (Biology, Chemistry and Physics), Computer Laboratories and the Technology and Livelihood Education Laboratories. They are venues that promote inquiry, discovery and research, and application of theories and principles covered in the different courses of study.

The laboratory provisions are adequate to meet DepEd requirements defined by the enrolment and programs offered by the school, and varied alternative delivery and blended learning modalities employed by the school: space, number, appropriate and recent. The Laboratories are functional, well-kept and safe. There are evidences of systematic operations management and continuing improvement.

Description

Student Development Services assist in the growth and development of the school community. The Guidance and Counseling, Student Activity, Health and Nutrition Programs promote the social welfare and the total development of the learner. The Guidance and Counseling Program assists the learners in their personal and interpersonal relations through the admission services, guidance: orientation, individual inventory, testing and research, counseling, career guidance development and placement and follow-up services.

Basis of Evaluation

Guidance and Counseling includes orientation for learners to usher them to the school and its various programs and offerings, individual learner inventory of personal, mental and pertinent psycho-social information necessary for self-knowledge and self-development, testing and research efficient towards assessment and analyses of individual and institutional growth needs, individual and group counseling in the learner's effective understanding of themselves and overall learner well-being, developmental career guidance so learners may be assisted in making career choices, and placement and follow-up procedures to ensure instructional differentiation and learner assistance.

The Health and Nutrition Services provide for primary medical and dental examinations, immediate emergency care, and proper nutrition essential for the well-being of the learners while they are in school. In all thee, i9nfection control and containment is ensured.

The Student Activity Program includes co-curricular and extra - curricular activities that promote the holistic development of the learners, complement the Kto12 program and pursue the PVMGO of the school. These activities must collectively develop student initiative, responsibility and leadership as well as desirable social relationships. Student Discipline covers matters on student decorum, behavior formation and when called for, disciplinary measures in a positive learning environment. It is implemented by a Discipline Officer.

Description

The physical plant comprises the educational environment covering land, building and building fixtures, learning and other ancillary spaces, providing for a conducive atmosphere. It is appropriate and adequate to attain the school vision-mission and program goals and objectives.

Basis of Evaluation

The physical environment supports robust teaching and promotes optimal student learning and growth. The physical plant facilities and buildings must conform with DepEd requirements and National Building Code requisites. It clearly provides for the needs of the programs offered by the school, varied alternative delivery and blended learning modalities employed, as well as size and scope of the school community while upholding their well-being such as health and nutrition, safety and security, sanitation and hygiene. The campus facilities are adequate for curricular and co-curricular activities. School buildings and classrooms are appropriate for educational purposes. Inspections to ensure health and safety code requirements are regularly conducted.

ICT Environment

Standards of Compliance

1. A system for the design, development, construction and maintenance of different school facilities in line with regulatory and statutory requirements like the National Building Code standards for size, safety and security, environment protection, etc.*	4	3	2	1	0
2. Accessible and adequate provisions for space with due consideration for maximum class size and total population requirements*	4	3	2	1	0
3. An ICT infrastructure that is available and appropriate for various flexible learning opportunities and alternative learning modalities which may include: 3.1. e-tools, equipment and facilities 3.2. communication and information technology	4	3	2	1	0
4. Adequate equipment, tools and supplies, appropriate laboratory fixtures (demonstration tables, electrical and water fittings, fume hoods where needed, first – aid kit, shower, etc.) which conform to the minimum requirements of the DepEd, the needs of the subjects offered and the various learning delivery modalities adopted by the school in: - Biology* - Chemistry* - Physics* - TLE* - Computer*	4	3	2	1	0
5. A school facilities development plan that lays out provisions for different learning spaces, ICT infrastructure appropriate to the adopted learning delivery approaches and modalities and addresses varied needs for robust learning.	4	3	2	1	0
6. Adequate provisions for space, equipment and supplies necessary for the conduct of annual medical and dental check-ups, delivery of emergency services, and infection control and containment*	4	3	2	1	0

G. ADMINISTRATION AND GOVERNANCE

Description

Leadership and governance commits to the attainment of the school's philosophy vision, mission, goals, objectives and core values through its various programs and services. Its administrative organization (1) establishes policies, structures and processes to ensure effectiveness and efficiency of day-to-day operations and long-range planning, (2) implements resource management systems to strengthen operational stability and program sustainability, (3) fosters productive learning climate towards professional and student development, and (4) cultivates collegial, collaborative and reflective relationships with its stakeholders and the wider community conducive for quality student learning.

Basis of Evaluation

The school's Junior High School Program must be duly recognized by the Department of Education. Its administrative organization is responsible for compliance with DepEd and other legislated requirements. Its governing policies and system mechanisms are defined in a published and well-disseminated Manual of Operations or Administrative Manual. Administrative leadership is manifest in the areas of operations management, human resource development, resource management and program sustainability. The school climate is characterized by positive culture and harmonious relationships among the members of the school community. There are collaborative structures which allow stakeholder participation in school management and decision-making.

Standards of Compliance

H. SCHOOL BUDGET AND FINANCES

Description

Financial management involves budgeting, procurement, disbursement, accounting and auditing processes and procedures which follow prescribed principles and legislated requirements. The business practices of the school seek to manage its fiscal and material resources to attain its philosophy, vision, mission, goals and objectives, scope and size.

Basis of Evaluation

The school operates on a school budget. Budget allocations for personnel, space, equipment and operations are appropriate and sufficient to sustain its programs and continued improvement plans. Budget control mechanisms are evidently established.

School finances are adequate to sustain effective and efficient delivery of programs and services. Income from tuition, fees and resource mobilization is appropriately spent for their intended purposes. There is evidence of financial stability to ensure the continued operations of the school and its programs in accordance with DepEd standards. The school maintains accurate records of financial transactions according to legal and ethical standards of accounting practice.

Standards of Compliance

1. A school financial policy and procedures manual that sets the appropriate fiscal and accounting policies and systematic procedures that ensure the effective and efficient delivery of varied services*	4	3	2	1	0
2. An annual budget approved by the Board of Trustees that is:
- collaboratively prepared by the various offices and responsibility centers*	4	3	2	1	0
- regularly monitored through the quarter budget performance reports which are disseminated according to policy guidelines*	4	3	2	1	0
- reflective and supportive of the Standards -based School Improvement Plan*	4	3	2	1	0
3. Systematic requisition, selection and procurement protocols that are well-disseminated, implemented and properly documented	4	3	2	1	0
4. A system for ensuring that all incomes from tuition and all other fees, and donations are properly utilized according to the purposes they are collected*	4	3	2	1	0
5. A system for generating revenue and raising funds from school and outside school sources for sustainability*	4	3	2	1	0
6. A system of :
- supervision and management of resources for optimum operational efficiency*	4	3	2	1	0
- establishment of internal control systems in budget implementation and*	4	3	2	1	0

I. INSTITUTIONAL PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT

Description

The school purposively lays down specific interventions for improvement of access, quality and governance with the help of the community and other stakeholders, through a systematic and continuous cycle of assessment, planning and implementation defined in a strategic Three-year Standards – based School Improvement Plan (SSIP) and Annual Operational Plan. It assesses and communicates progress towards achieving the objectives for the continuing improvement of its educational programs and services which informs administrative decision-making.

Basis of Evaluation

The school is successful in meeting this standard when it implements a collaborative and on-going data-driven process for improvement that aligns the school’s philosophy, vision-mission, goals and objectives and curriculum goals with its size, function and community expectations for student performance, learning recovery and continuity.

Standards of Compliance

1. A system of on – going process for improvement that:

- is aligned with the school vision – mission and curriculum goals*	4	3	2	1	0
- responds to the school’s size, function and community expectations for learner performance*	4	3	2	1	0
- includes contextualized strategies and interventions towards learning continuity and remediation, and learner’s moral, socio-emotional functioning, mental health and total well-being.	4	3	2	1	0
2. An annual operational plan drawn from the Three-year SSIP*	4	3	2	1	0
3. A system that utilizes formative and summative assessment results, learning intervention evaluation results, and other baseline and end-line assessment data to guide school improvement planning*	4	3	2	1	0
4. A system for collaboratively monitoring and evaluating the annual operational plan and the Standards –based School Improvement Plan*	4	3	2	1	0

Appraisal of Blended/Distance Learning<sup>3</sup> (ABDL)

This form is to be used in schools where the K12 curriculum is as a matter of school policy and operations delivered in various modalities aside from the regular face-to-face classroom setting. In particular, this form covers schools where students have limited in-person contact with their teachers (i.e., once or twice a week) and are expected to do independent study or have online classes during the rest of the school week with the help of printed or online learning modules and resources. In such schools, the in-person class setting is secondary to other modes which involve either independent study or online classes.

The form may also be used by schools doing blended learning. The instrument contains items that deal with technology integration for both in-person and online teaching and learning. As a quality assurance document, the results of the appraisal may contribute to the school's plans to improve and upgrade its blended learning program. Hence, the objective of this appraisal is to provide different schools with helpful feedback on their current system of conducting instruction in modalities covering the combination of face-to-face, distance and online teaching.

The items in this appraisal form are drawn from various documents such as DepEd's guidelines for development of instructional materials for alternative delivery of instruction (ADM LR Standards 050820), learning continuity program (DO no. 12, s. 2020), and pertinent research on best practices for the use of printed modules, blended and distance learning. These items do not replace the regular Classroom Observation Form used in certification visits. These items then are additions and provide certifiers and observers with guidance on how to assess instruction in various modalities. It is also important to underscore here though that this form does not apply to the delivery of the Alternative Learning System (ALS) program.

The items are clustered in five domains namely, 1) Instructional Design; 2) Learner Engagement; 3) Assessment; 4) Technology Selection, Access and Support; and 5) Academic Integrity and Digital Citizenship. The rating scale in this form follows the same scale used in the Classroom Observation Form. Hence, the rating scale is established as:

- 4 – Performance of this item is innovatively done
- 3 – Performance of this item is satisfactorily done
- 2 – Performance of this item is partially done due to some omissions
- 1 – Performance of this item is partially done due to serious errors and misconceptions
- 0 – Performance of this item is not observed at all

<sup>3</sup> DepEd in its primer "Learning opportunities shall be available" provides the following definitions:

Blended Learning. This refers to a learning delivery that combines face-to-face with any or a mix of online distance learning, modular distance learning, and TV/ Radio-based Instruction. Blended learning will enable the schools to limit face-to-face learning, ensure social distancing, and decrease the volume of people outside the home at any given time.

Distance Learning. This refers to a learning delivery modality where learning takes place between the teacher and the learners who are geographically remote from each other during instruction. This modality has three types: Modular Distance Learning (MDL), Online Distance Learning (ODL), and TV/Radio-Based Instruction.

2.	Alignment of in-person and online activities, assessments, learning resources, Website links, and other digital applications with K12 curriculum unit standards and learning competencies	4	3	2	1	0
3.	Employment of active learning, inquiry-based, learner-centered and problem-solving pedagogies in the different learning experiences and tasks	4	3	2	1	0
4.	A logical sequence beginning with acquisition and understanding of content and culminating with transfer of learning to real-life situations	4	3	2	1	0
5.	Varied graphic organizers, outlines, bullet points, illustrations, charts, pictures, videos, real life examples, glossaries, and summaries to enable students to recall, process, and apply content	4	3	2	1	0
6.	Differentiated in-person and online practice exercises and questions that enable students to gain mastery of the specified learning standards and competencies	4	3	2	1	0
7.	A writing style that addresses the students in a conversational way and provides explicit and detailed procedures in accomplishing tasks and accessing resources	4	3	2	1	0
8.	Specific time allocations for accomplishing in-person and online learning tasks	4	3	2	1	0

9.	A weekly work plan or schedule of in-person and online sessions and their corresponding tasks and requirements for students to follow, do and submit	4	3	2	1	0
10.	Explanations of how different in-person and online learning tasks are connected to and build on each other and lead students to the attainment of the desired learning outcomes	4	3	2	1	0
DOMAIN 2: Learner Engagement: The teacher facilitates students' active engagement in learning the curriculum unit standards and competencies through the following:
11.	A system of recording and monitoring the students' accomplishment of in-person and online learning tasks, requirements, and assignments	4	3	2	1	0
12.	Varied opportunities for students' interaction with learning material and resources, the subject teacher, classmates, community resources, and content experts	4	3	2	1	0
13.	Differentiated activities that address the learners' diverse backgrounds, interests, and multiple learning styles	4	3	2	1	0
14.	Learning activities that elicit critical thinking, creativity, reflection, dialogue, and collaboration	4	3	2	1	0
15.	Implementation of specific procedures for students' participation in class recitation, check-up exercises, discussions, posts, and presentations in various modalities (e.g., routines on how to conduct one's self in synchronous and asynchronous sessions or blended models like station-rotation)	4	3	2	1	0
DOMAIN 3: Assessment: The teacher assesses students' attainment of the curriculum unit standards and learning competencies through the following:
16.	A system of obtaining, organizing and analyzing data on students' performance in various in-person and online activities and assessments	4	3	2	1	0
17.	Interactive learning exercises that enable students to practice specific competencies and self-assess and track their proficiency level	4	3	2	1	0

18.	Timely and regular feedback in various formats (e.g., use of platform or tools for comments, polls, surveys) to students regarding their performance	4	3	2	1	0
19.	Multiple methods and differentiated forms of assessment that diagnose students' readiness, check on students' understanding, allow students to revise and improve their work, and demonstrate in varied ways their attainment of the curriculum unit standards and learning competencies	4	3	2	1	0
20.	Mechanisms for students' consultation with teacher offline or in distance mode regarding content, procedures or requirements	4	3	2	1	0
DOMAIN 4: Technology Selection, Access and Support: The teacher selects and makes accessible technology resources that support students' attainment of the curriculum unit standards and competencies through the following:
21.	A system of selection or curation of digital learning tools and resources aligned with curriculum unit standards and learning competencies	4	3	2	1	0
22.	Varied media and digital resources in different formats or versions (e.g., text with video) for equitable access and ease of use by students	4	3	2	1	0
23.	Specific information on minimum technical requirements, detailed assistance on troubleshooting technical problems and means of obtaining technical support	4	3	2	1	0
24.	A system for recording and archiving discussions and presentations and retrieving learning materials and resources when needed (i.e., links to recordings of online meetings, transcripts, slide decks)	4	3	2	1	0
25.	Compliance with data privacy and confidentiality regulations and protection of learners from erroneous, offensive or harmful content	4	3	2	1	0

DOMAIN 5: Academic Integrity and Digital Citizenship: The teacher ensures academic integrity and the students' observance of standards of digital citizenship through the following:
26.	Students' signed declaration that any submitted work or completed assessment done in-person and online is the product of their own efforts and understanding	4	3	2	1	0
27.	Students' compliance with standards of netiquette behavior and ethical use of digital media	4	3	2	1	0
28.	Implementation of school policies covering intellectual property and copyright, cybersecurity and cyberbullying	4	3	2	1	0
29.	Use of strategies and digital tools that verify the authenticity or originality of students' work	4	3	2	1	0
30.	Alignment of technology use and integration in teaching and learning with the school's philosophy, vision, mission and core values	4	3	2	1	0

6.2: SCHOOL YEAR 2024

ESC (RE-) CERTIFICATION ASSESSMENT INSTRUMENT

Background and Rationale

A Junior High School participating in the Educational Service Contracting (ESC) Program of the Department of Education (DepEd) is expected to fully comply with the minimum standards for secondary educational institutions. It must also be committed to become an effective school in delivering quality educational programs and services in line with the goals and objectives of the Kto12 curriculum program. DepEd enjoins participating private schools to ensure that ESC student grantees are offered an academically challenging Junior High School education in an environment of values, trust and loyalty. ESC grantees, along with other private Junior High School students, will have acquired the knowledge and developed the skills necessary for success in higher educational pursuits and in a wide range of careers.

The Department of Education (DepEd) has commissioned the Private Education Assistance Committee (PEAC), through its National Secretariat, to establish a quality assurance certification mechanism that would confirm ESC participating private junior high schools' compliance with DepEd's standards for recognition. A certified ESC school therefore is one which has complied with all DepEd standards, adheres to applicable DepEd policies and meets the requirements of the self-study procedure prescribed by the PEAC National Secretariat ESC Certification Unit. Through this assessment instrument, an ESC school is assisted to determine its strength and potentials for becoming a more effective educational institution. The government, through the Department of Education, has looked into the facilities and physical resources of the school prior to the granting of recognition. Therefore, this assessment instrument focuses more on the functional use of these facilities and resources, rather than the provision thereof.

Standards in an Evidence-based Framework

A basic framework of a quality educational system is one that succeeds in meeting its own goals; relevant to the needs of students, communities and society; and fosters the ability of students to acquire knowledge and critical learning skills. Quality is not the only factor keeping students out of school but it is when effective learning is not taking place, that parents are more likely to withdraw their children from school early or not send them at all. Improving the school's quality is therefore essential to achieving the goal of universal access to and completion of basic education. This ESC School (Re-) Certification Instrument is designed to basically assess the extent of compliance with the DepEd Minimum Quality Standards as well as to evaluate the school's characteristics, its qualitative indicators of excellence, and its level of performance vis-à-vis the K to12 program. These standards contain specific criteria which ensure that the school is functional and engaged in self-assessment for continuous school improvement.

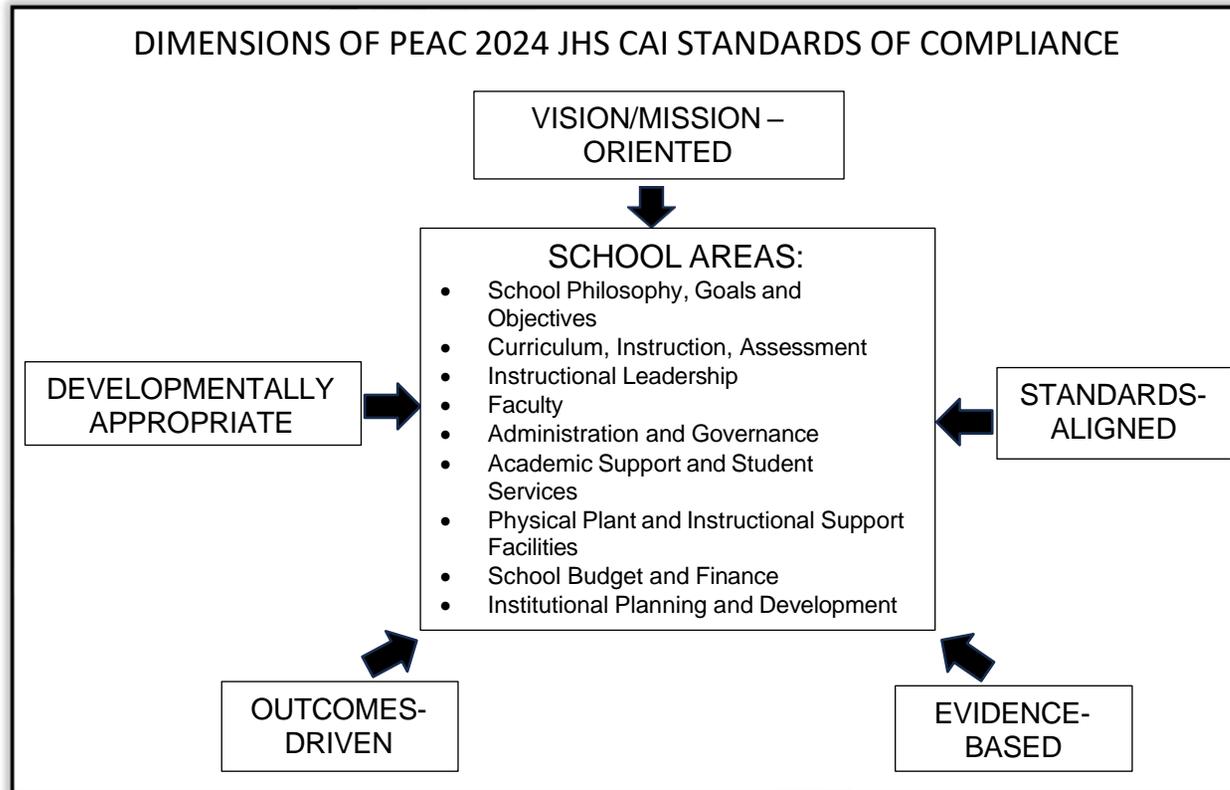

This is a quality assurance tool aimed at building effective and high performing Junior High Schools through continuous focused improvement efforts that are aligned with Kto12 standards. Being so, evidence of compliance with standards and demonstration of quality needs to be gathered and examined throughout the certification process. Area items for evaluation as well as the rating scale prompt the school and certifiers to search for evidences in the school system that are in line with the standards for compliance. Below is a diagram of the role these evidences play in the entire certification process:

At the center of the diagram is the emphasis of obtaining evidence of the school's compliance with the K12 standards. Schools applying for certification or re-certification prepare a report of their self-assessment of compliance with the standards in each area of the Certification Assessment Instrument or CAI. The school's assessment is based on their evidence for the items in these nine different areas, of which are found on the outer frame of the diagram above. Hence, the school also puts together the different evidences that support their self-rating. During the certification visit, the team of certifiers verify the school's CAI report and examine the different evidences presented. Thus, instead of ascertaining the school's level of meeting the standards based on their perception, this instrument prompts certifiers to verify in more concrete terms the extent of evidences the school actually has. By shifting the focus to observable and tangible evidences, both school and certifiers have a common basis for evaluation. For the school and certifiers' guidance, a section on Examples of Compliance Evidence is found at the end of every area. Decisions about the final certification status are made in line with the presentation and examination of evidences.

The revision/updating of existing standards of compliance in the 2018 JHS CAI and the identification and articulation of new items is premised on five dimensions. The different area items promote quality education when the items are able to manifest or reflect any of these five dimensions namely, vision/mission-oriented, standards-aligned, developmentally appropriate, outcomes-driven and evidence-based. What do each of these dimensions mean?

<sup>1</sup> This is a revised version of an initial section of the proposed PEAC Standards-based Quality Assurance Instrument – Elementary Schools or SQAI-ES. The dimensions have been adapted for inclusion in the PEAC SQAI-ES, JHS CAI, and SHS CAI. While the number of school areas may vary (SQAI-ES and JHS CAI have nine while SHS CAI has 10), the five dimensions are applicable to all levels in basic education.

Vision/Mission-Oriented: As part of their identity as a private educational institution, private schools articulate and carry out their own vision and mission, philosophy of education, goals and objectives. The school's vision and mission statements define the school's purpose and direction. Private schools achieve quality when the school is able to operationalize the vision and mission in the different aspects of school work. The 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance then determine how the different policies, programs and services in the nine school areas are oriented to realizing the vision and mission statement. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI asks the following questions: How vision and mission-oriented are the different school areas in their policies, programs and services? To what extent is the school's vision-mission accomplished in the nine school areas?

Standards-Aligned: With the passage of RA10533 or the 2013 Enhanced Basic Education Act, all basic education schools are mandated to teach the Department of Education's K to 12 curriculum program. The program contains curriculum standards and competencies for students to learn. As a private entity, JHS are also enjoined to comply with the provisions of the 2010 Revised Manual of Regulation for Private Schools. Private schools thus show quality when these standards are adopted, implemented and used for evaluation in the nine school areas. For these reasons, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance examine how the school's curriculum, instruction and assessment are aligned with and utilize these standards. With this second dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance raise the question: To what extent is the school implementing the K12 program standards and other requirements in the nine school areas?

Developmentally-Appropriate: Students in the JHS level develop and realize their potentials when the school provides them research-based teaching and learning experiences that attend to their developmental needs and nurture their growth in different domains (i.e., physical and motor, social-emotional, character and values, cognitive and intellectual, language, mathematical and creative-aesthetic). Consequently, private JHSs manifest quality when the policies, programs and services in the nine school areas are formulated, undertaken and assessed in accordance with the student's developmental requirements and milestones. The 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance gauge how the school incorporates the students' background, needs, learning styles and abilities when planning, implementing and evaluating policies, programs and services. In this third dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance focus on the following question: To what extent are the different developmental needs of students addressed in the nine school areas?

Outcomes-driven: Schools are outcomes-driven when they focus on results that represent students' performance of expected skills as well as each department or program's achievement of stated goals. Private JHS rate high on quality when first, their students in various assessments reliably and consistently demonstrate the skills required at a certain grade level or higher and second, when their programs and services accomplish their specific targets. In line with this, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance measure and report students' achievement levels and program results. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance examine the following: To what extent are students able to demonstrate knowledge, understanding and performance of learning standards and competencies? To what extent are the students able to accomplish the milestones in the different domains of development? To what extent are programs and services in the nine school areas able to produce desired results?

Evidence-based. Successful JHS regularly obtain data and employ various metrics to present and showcase their pupils' achievement and effectiveness of their programs and services. They also search for and document valid and authentic examples of students' achievement, learning interventions and program results. Private JHS undertake these tasks with transparency and rigor. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance check on the following: To what extent is the school able to support its claims of students' achievements and program effectiveness in the nine school areas?

These five dimensions are integrated throughout the instrument. Every JHS CAI area has items that reflect these dimensions. For example, in the area of Instructional Leadership, item 1 (The provision of a system that actively communicates to various stakeholders the school's Vision, Mission, and Kto12 standards and directions and school's development and innovations in curriculum, assessment and instruction) is vision-mission oriented and standards-aligned. In the Area of Academic Support and Student Development Services, item 3 (A program for inventory and testing services to gather information on students' psychological and emotional make-up, academic progress and difficulties, and occupational and career interests) is about the developmentally-appropriate dimension. Item 3 in Instructional Leadership (Regular collection, interpretation and dissemination of data on student learning and performance to top and key school leaders towards informed decision-making) cover the outcomes-driven and evidence-based dimensions. Through the integration of these five dimensions, school administrators can understand the basis for specification of standards of compliance in the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI.

Instrument Areas

This instrument covers different areas of school operations that produce quality student performance and organizational effectiveness. These areas are:

- A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives
- B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction
- C. Instructional Leadership
- D. Faculty
- E. Academic Support and Student Development Services
- F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities
- G. Administration and Governance
- H. School Budget and Finances
- I. Institutional Planning and Development

The above areas are clustered into two groups – Core and Support. The Core group of areas covers sections deemed essential to teaching and learning. These areas are School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives; Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction; Instructional Leadership; Faculty; and Administration and Governance. The Support group of areas includes school operations that are undertaken in the context of and based on the direction of the Core group of areas. These areas are Academic Support and Student Development Services; Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities; School Budget and Finance; and Planning and Development. Observation of Classroom Instruction is a significant aspect in the area of Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction.

Each area consists of a set of standards for compliance. The standards are drawn from various sources such as the Kto12 Curriculum Program Standards and the Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers. In the Core group of areas, certain items regarded as power standards are marked with an asterisk (*). These standards are critical to the effectiveness of a particular area as these illustrate its key characteristics. Other items that are not marked are regarded as support standards which contribute to or supplement the achievement of a power standard. These items are done in relation to the direction of the power standards. Schools are then rated according to their extent of showing evidence of compliance with the standards.

Format of the Survey Instrument and the Rating Process

Each Area is introduced by an explanatory paragraph presenting the basis of evaluation. The Area lists the standards for compliance. A list of Examples of Compliance Evidences is given for the school’s guidance during its self-assessment and preparation of exhibits and documents. With the exception of the area on “School Philosophy, Goals and Objectives”, standards in each area are accompanied by the following rating scale:

Rating	Description
4	Evidence of compliance with standard and enhancements is presented
3	Evidence of compliance with standard is presented
2	Partial evidence of compliance with standard is presented
1	No evidence of compliance with standard is presented but plan of action in line with compliance is presented
0	No evidence of compliance with standard or plan of action is presented

Basing on the evidences presented, individual standards are rated. Upon completion of the individual standard rating, the area rating is determined and recorded according to a decision rule that examines the school’s level of compliance. Details of the decision rule are found in Appendix A. A Comments Section is provided for observations and other remarks.

After all areas are rated, another decision rule is applied to determine the final general rating. Details of this decision rule are also found in Appendix A. The final rating then serves as basis of the school’s overall certification result. See Appendix A for the different possible certification results.

A. PHILOSOPHY, VISION, MISSION, GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Description

The school philosophy vision, mission, goals and objectives present the overall direction of the school’s educational work. The statements clearly describe the school’s fundamental educational purposes, and the essence of what as a community of learners it is seeking to achieve as a community of learners. These serve as the basis for daily operational and instructional decision making as well as long-range planning.

Basis of Evaluation

The school philosophy, vision, mission, goals and objectives are evident in the school in various ways. The statements are used to determine the extent to which policies, practices, resources, and curricular and other program components work together conceptually, structurally, and operationally to achieve stated expectations for teaching and learning. There is a regular system of communicating and disseminating the contents of the school philosophy, vision, mission, goals, and objectives to the different sectors and stakeholders of the school community. Through this system, all the members and stakeholders of the school community are able to articulate a common understanding of and commitment to institutional goals, curriculum priorities, learning approaches, assessment procedures, and accountability as well as accept responsibility for the students' attainment of the curriculum standards. This PVMGO is also aligned with the community it serves and is reviewed periodically by stakeholder representatives.

B. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND INSTRUCTION

Description

The quality of instruction in a school is the most important factor affecting the quality of student learning, the achievement of expectations for student learning, the delivery of the curriculum, and the assessment of student progress. The school's instructional program is grounded in the school's mission and expectations for student learning, supported by researches on best practices, and refined and improved based on identified student needs.

With the passage of the Enhanced Basic Education Act of 2013, the Department of Education mandates that schools work towards the holistic development of the Filipino child with 21st century skills to enable him or her to be locally and globally competitive; and schools implement and teach the Kto12 standards-based curriculum.

Basis of Evaluation

The implementation of the Kto12 standards-based curriculum is evident in the school when various instructional and assessment practices are aligned with the standards and competencies found in the various subject curriculum guides. The unpacking and use of these standards as well as their alignments with instruction and assessment is consistently done across grade levels and various subjects and presented in different documents such as the school's curriculum map and learning plans. Students' learning progression from one grade level to the next is also clearly articulated in terms of observable skills and is related to the performance of 21st century skills.

Qualitative and quantitative evidences of student attainment of the standards are actively gathered, analyzed and used to evaluate and improve student learning, curriculum effectiveness, instructional practices, professional development, and support services. Progress as well as achievements in student learning and their development and performance of 21st century skills, is undertaken in both formative and summative assessments. Results of such assessments are accurately, clearly, and systematically reported to the school community and actively utilized. Appropriate interventions are identified and undertaken in response to student's learning difficulties.

Instruction is well-designed using the standards. Instructional time is spent in enabling students to achieve the learning goals of the standards and show evidence of mastering the competencies. Various research-based and learner-centered teaching strategies are utilized to ensure student success and performance of 21st century skills. Instructional materials and the use of technology are available and support the goals of instruction. The criteria for the selection, acquisition or preparation of these materials or resources is aligned with the requirements and attainment of the curriculum standards.

C. INSTRUCTIONAL LEADERSHIP

Description

As the designated leader of the school, the principal works to ensure that the learning goals of the Kto12 standards-based curriculum are achieved. The principal is therefore primarily an instructional leader who continuously seeks ways to improve the school's teaching-learning processes and environments and improve student performance.

Basis of Evaluation

The principal effectively functions as an instructional leader in a number of significant activities. The principal communicates to all sectors and stakeholders the directions of the school's Vision and Mission and the desired learning outcomes of the Kto12 standards-based curriculum program. The principal designs and implements a system for aligning the different school operations and departments with the school Vision and Mission and the learning outcomes of the Kto12 standards-based curriculum program. The principal initiates changes in instructional and assessment practices to make learning more relevant, meaningful and evident for all students. The principal actively monitors and provides feedback to different sectors on their implementation of and contributions to the accomplishment of the Kto12 curriculum goals. The principal supports the professional growth of the faculty and staff and encourages them to adopt a growth mindset and become lifelong learners in the understanding and practice of relevant 21st century pedagogies. The principal provides time for teachers to collaborate on analyzing data on student performance and planning interventions for higher student achievement. The principal also manages the school's resources and funds to provide the needed instructional facilities and materials for successful teaching.

D. FACULTY

Description

The school recruits, hires and maintains faculty who are licensed, qualified, competent, and sufficient in number to effectively enable the school and the specific educational programs offered to accomplish their purposes. Faculty assignments are such that faculty members are able to carry out their duties effectively. Faculty members have adequate time to prepare and provide effective instruction, advice and evaluate students, continue professional growth, and participate in service activities expected by the school. The student-faculty ratio is consistent with the size, scope, goals, and the specific purposes and requirements of the programs offered. All faculty members are able to guide student learning and to communicate personal knowledge and experience effectively.

Basis of Evaluation

Feedback on the faculty's performance is given in different ways. The school regularly conducts annual faculty performance appraisals and clinical supervision to help faculty assess themselves and improve on their performance. The school also offers varied professional development opportunities to upgrade the faculty's competence and deepen their understanding of their particular functions. The design of the professional development program is guided by the school's philosophy/mission and aligned with the 2017 Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers.

Description

Academic Support Services and Student Development services work together to accomplish the school's curriculum goals and assist in its evaluation and enhancement. These academic support service units as measures of quality facilitate the efficient and effective curriculum implementation and instructional delivery: Registrar's Office, Library-IMC and Laboratories. The admission policy should be consistent with the PVMGO of the school and its effectiveness is in its predictive ability of the learner's academic potentials.

Basis of Evaluation

Recording of student admission, progress and achievement and preparations of transcripts of records, certificates and diplomas and organization of students' academic data are done in the Registrar's Office. Adequacy, accessibility and confidentiality of these data are measures of quality.

The Library- Instructional Media Center is the principal educational-print, non-print and digital resource-repository of the school. The Library-IMC is designed to facilitate active and inquiry-based learning, individual and self-paced study and research, and leisurely reading. It serves as an integral part of every learners' educational experience. Accessibility, up-datedness, and adequacy in scope, quantity, timeliness, and relevance to varied learning modalities are measures of quality.

The Laboratories include the Sciences Laboratories: (Biology, Chemistry and Physics), Computer Laboratories and the Technology and Livelihood Education Laboratories. They are venues that promote inquiry, discovery and research, and application of theories and principles covered in the different courses of study.

The laboratory provisions are adequate to meet DepEd requirements defined by the enrolment, programs offered by the school, and varied alternative and blended learning modalities: space, number, appropriate and recent. The Laboratories are functional, well-kept and safe. There are evidences of systematic operations management and continuing improvement.

Description

Student Development Services assist in the growth and development of the school community. The Guidance and Counseling, Student Activity, Health and Nutrition Programs support the academic, psychological, social-mental development leading to total well-being of the learner. The Guidance and Counseling Program assists the learners in their personal and interpersonal relations through the admission services, guidance: orientation, individual inventory, testing and research, counseling, career guidance development and placement and follow-up services.

Basis of Evaluation

Guidance and Counseling includes orientation for learners to usher them to the school and its various programs and offerings, individual learner inventory of personal, mental and pertinent psycho-social information necessary for self-knowledge and self-development, testing and research efficient towards assessment and analyses of individual and institutional growth needs, individual and group counseling in the learners' effective understanding of themselves and their overall learner well-being, developmental career guidance so learners may be assisted in making career choices, and placement and follow-up procedures to ensure instructional differentiation and learner assistance.

The Health and Nutrition Services provide for primary medical and dental examinations, emergency care, and proper nutrition essential for the well-being of the learners while they are in school. It also includes infection control and containment provisions.

The Student Activity Program includes co-curricular and extra - curricular activities that promote the holistic development of the learners, complement the Kto12 program and pursue the PVMGO of the school. These activities must collectively develop student initiative, responsibility and leadership as well as desirable social relationships.

Student Discipline covers matters on student decorum, behavior formation and disciplinary measures in a positive learning environment. It is implemented by a Discipline Officer.

F. PHYSICAL PLANT AND INSTRUCTIONAL SUPPORT FACILITIES

Description

The physical plant comprises the educational environment covering land, building and building fixtures, learning and other ancillary spaces, and ICT environment providing for a conducive learning atmosphere. It is appropriate and adequate to attain the school vision-mission and program goals and objectives, instructional design and varied learning delivery modalities.

Basis of Evaluation

The physical environment supports robust teaching and promotes optimal student learning and growth. The physical plant facilities and buildings services must conform with DepEd requirements and National Building Code requisites. It clearly provides for the needs of the programs offered, varied alternative delivery and blended/hybridized learning modalities employed as well as size and scope of the school community while upholding learner total well-being such as health and nutrition, safety and security, sanitation and hygiene. The campus facilities are adequate for curricular and co-curricular activities. School buildings and classrooms are appropriate for educational purposes. Supervisory inspections to ensure health and safety code requirements are regularly conducted.

G. ADMINISTRATION AND GOVERNANCE

Description

Leadership and governance commits to the attainment of the school's philosophy vision, mission, goals, objectives and core values through its various programs and services. Its administrative organization (1) establishes policies, structures and processes to ensure effectiveness and efficiency of day-to-day operations and long-range planning, (2) implements resource management systems to strengthen operational stability and program sustainability, (3) fosters productive learning climate towards professional and student development, and (4) cultivates collegial, collaborative and reflective relationships with its stakeholders and the wider community conducive for quality student learning.

Basis of Evaluation

The school's Junior High School Program must be duly recognized by the Department of Education. Its administrative organization is responsible for compliance with DepEd and other legislated requirements. Its governing policies and system mechanisms are defined in a published and well-disseminated Manual of Operations or Administrative Manual. Administrative leadership is manifest in the areas of operations management, human resource development, resource management and program sustainability. The school climate is characterized by positive culture and harmonious relationships among the members of the school community. There are collaborative structures which allow stakeholder participation in school management and decision-making.

H. SCHOOL BUDGET AND FINANCES

Description

Financial management involves budgeting, procurement, disbursement, accounting and auditing processes and procedures which follow prescribed principles and legislated requirements. The business practices of the school seek to manage its fiscal and material resources to attain its philosophy, vision, mission, goals and objectives, scope and size.

Basis of Evaluation

The school operates on a school budget. Budget allocations for personnel, space, equipment and operations are appropriate and sufficient to sustain its programs and continued improvement plans. Budget control mechanisms are evidently established.

School finances are adequate to sustain effective and efficient delivery of programs and services. Income from tuition, fees and resource mobilization is appropriately spent for their intended purposes. There is evidence of financial stability to ensure the continued operations of the school and its programs in accordance with DepEd standards. The school maintains accurate records of financial transactions according to legal and ethical standards of accounting practice.

I. INSTITUTIONAL PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT

Description

The school purposively lays down specific interventions for improvement of access, quality and governance with the help of the community and other stakeholders, through a systematic and continuous cycle of assessment, planning and implementation defined in a strategic three-year Standards – based School Improvement Plan (SSIP) and Annual Operational Plan. It assesses and communicates progress towards achieving the objectives for the continuing improvement of its educational programs and services which informs administrative decision-making.

Basis of Evaluation

The school is successful in meeting this standard when it implements a collaborative and on-going data-driven process for improvement that aligns the school’s philosophy, vision-mission, goals and objectives, curriculum goals with its size, function and community expectations for student performance, and learning recovery and continuity.

Standards of Compliance	Focus Questions:	Look-Fors:	ECEs:
1. A system of on-going process for improvement that:
- is aligned with the school vision – mission and curriculum goals*	- Is there on on-going thrust for school improvement? - Is this thrust/drive/program for school improvement towards the attainment of the school V-M and curriculum goals?	- School improvement initiatives aligned with PVMGO - School improvement initiatives aligned with curriculum goals	- SSIP or its equivalent - Department plans for improvement - Minutes of department meetings - Minutes of Administrative/ BOT meetings
- responds to the school’s size, function and community expectations for learner performance *	- Does this thrust/drive/program for school improvement consider school size? Programs offered? Parents and community expectations?	School improvement initiatives based on: - school physical plant needs - community expectations - learner performance	- E- BEIS - Inventory of program needs - Survey of parents’/ community/stakeholders’ expectations - Minutes of SSIP/school improvement planning

This form is to be used in schools where the K12 curriculum is as a matter of school policy and operations delivered in various modalities aside from the regular face-to-face classroom setting. In particular, this form covers schools where students have limited in-person contact with their teachers (i.e., once or twice a week) and are expected to do independent study or have online classes during the rest of the school week with the help of printed or online learning modules and resources. In such schools, the in-person class setting is secondary to other modes which involve either independent study or online classes.

The form may also be used by schools doing blended learning. The instrument contains items that deal with technology integration for both in-person and online teaching and learning. As a quality assurance document, the results of the appraisal may contribute to the school's plans to improve and upgrade its blended learning program. Hence, the objective of this appraisal is to provide different schools with helpful feedback on their current system of conducting instruction in modalities covering the combination of face-to-face, distance and online teaching.

The items in this appraisal form are drawn from various documents such as DepEd's guidelines for development of instructional materials for alternative delivery of instruction (ADM LR Standards 050820), learning continuity program (DO no. 12, s. 2020), and pertinent research on best practices for the use of printed modules, blended and distance learning. These items do not replace the regular Classroom Observation Form used in certification visits. These items then are additions and provide certifiers and observers with guidance on how to assess instruction in various modalities. It is also important to underscore here though that this form does not apply to the delivery of the Alternative Learning System (ALS) program.

The items are clustered in five domains namely, 1) Instructional Design; 2) Learner Engagement; 3) Assessment; 4) Technology Selection, Access and Support; and 5) Academic Integrity and Digital Citizenship. The rating scale in this form follows the same scale used in the Classroom Observation Form. Hence, the rating scale is established as:

<sup>5</sup> DepEd in its primer "Learning opportunities shall be available" provides the following definitions:

Blended Learning. This refers to a learning delivery that combines face-to-face with any or a mix of online distance learning, modular distance learning, and TV/ Radio-based Instruction. Blended learning will enable the schools to limit face-to-face learning, ensure social distancing, and decrease the volume of people outside the home at any given time.

Distance Learning. This refers to a learning delivery modality where learning takes place between the teacher and the learners who are geographically remote from each other during instruction. This modality has three types: Modular Distance Learning (MDL), Online Distance Learning (ODL), and TV/Radio-Based Instruction.

6.5 : HANDBOOK FOR SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PLANNING

Handbook on Standards-based for School Improvement Planning 2022

1. INTRODUCTION

Background and Rationale

The Philippine educational system is high in its quest to raise the quality of educational institutions in both the public and private sectors especially because of new reforms required with the passage of RA 10533 otherwise known as the Enhanced Basic Education Act of 2013. The Department of Education (DepEd) which is tasked with the management and supervision of Basic Education pursues quality to ensure the attainment of the goals of the Kto12 Program. Efforts to enhance these mechanisms in line with the requirements and standards need to flow seamlessly from Kinder to Junior High and Senior High School.

The Department of Education (DepEd) has commissioned the Private Education Assistance Committee (PEAC), through its National Secretariat, to establish quality assurance mechanisms that would confirm compliance with DepEd requirements for recognition and Kto12 standards. Pursuing this mandate, PEAC has designed and instituted a quality assurance certification process for ESC participating private Junior High Schools. Such certification process proved to be an effective tool towards quality and school improvement efforts of ESC participating schools thereby assuring the communities served that ESC participating schools not only meet minimum DepEd standards but manifest commitment to continuing school improvement towards quality educational programs and services.

True to its advocacy of quality assurance and inclusivity, PEAC extends this endeavor beyond Junior High School (Grades 7-10) certification process for ESC participating schools by developing the Senior High School (Grades 11-12) Certification Assessment Instrument (SHS-CAI) and the Standards-based Quality Assurance Instrument for Elementary Schools (SQAI-ES) (K-Grade 6) to continue the seamless and harmonized efforts of private schools in the spirit of continuing school improvement towards the attainment of quality and sustainability.

1.2. Values and Benefits of Standards-based Quality Assurance Improvement Planning

Before a school is granted recognition by DepEd, it must meet the minimum standards and criteria specified by the Manual of Regulations for private schools and Kto12 Program expectations. This recognition signifies that:

- a. the school's purposes are within the framework of the Philippine educational philosophy and goals;
- b. it has fully complied with DepEd standards;
- c. it has conformed with all relevant policies, rules and regulations.

Internal quality assurance ensures that DepEd standards are pursued maintained. It establishes institutional integrity, school effectiveness and continual improvement of school quality.

2. THE FRAMEWORK OF THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL ESC (RE-)CERTIFICATION ASSESSMENT INSTRUMENT (JHS CAI)

2.1. Rationale and Background of the JHS CAI

Background and Rationale

A Junior High School participating in the Educational Service Contracting (ESC) Program of the Department of Education (DepEd) is expected to fully comply with the minimum standards for secondary educational institutions. It must also be committed to become an effective school in delivering quality educational programs and services in line with the goals and objectives of the Kto12 curriculum program. DepEd enjoins participating private schools to ensure that ESC student grantees are offered an academically challenging Junior High School education in an environment of values, trust and loyalty. ESC grantees, along with other private Junior High School students, will have acquired the knowledge and developed the skills necessary for success in higher educational pursuits and in a wide range of careers.

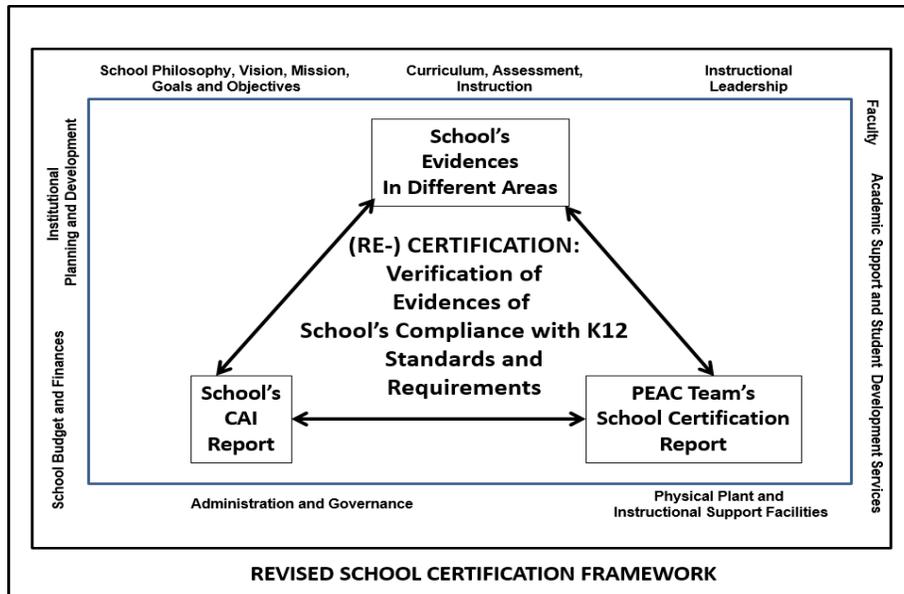

The Department of Education (DepEd) has commissioned the Private Education Assistance Committee (PEAC), through its National Secretariat, to establish a quality assurance certification mechanism that would confirm ESC participating private junior high schools' compliance with DepEd's standards for recognition. A certified ESC school therefore is one which has complied with all DepEd standards, adheres to applicable DepEd policies and meets the requirements of the self-study procedure prescribed by the PEAC National Secretariat ESC Certification Unit. Through this assessment instrument, an ESC school is assisted to determine its strength and potentials for becoming a more effective educational institution. The government, through the Department of Education, has looked into the facilities and physical resources of the school prior to the granting of recognition. Therefore, this assessment instrument focuses more on the functional use of these facilities and resources, rather than the provision thereof.

Standards in an Evidence-based Framework

A basic framework of a quality educational system is one that succeeds in meeting its own goals; relevant to the needs of students, communities and society; and fosters the ability of students to acquire knowledge and critical learning skills. Quality is not the only factor keeping students out of school but it is when effective learning is not taking place, that parents are more likely to withdraw their children from school early or not send them at all. Improving the school's quality is therefore essential to achieving the goal of universal access to and completion of basic education. This ESC School (Re-) Certification Instrument is designed to basically assess the extent of compliance with the DepEd Minimum Quality Standards as well as to evaluate the school's characteristics, its qualitative indicators of excellence, and its level of performance vis-à-vis the K to12 program. These standards contain specific criteria which ensure that the school is functional and engaged in self-assessment for continuous school improvement.

This is a quality assurance tool aimed at building effective and high performing Junior High Schools through continuous focused improvement efforts that are aligned with Kto12 standards. Being so, evidence of compliance with standards and demonstration of quality needs to be gathered and examined throughout the certification process. Area items for evaluation as well as the rating scale prompt the school and certifiers to search for evidences in the school system that are in line with the standards for compliance. On the next page is a diagram of the role these evidences play in the entire certification process:

At the center of the diagram is the emphasis of obtaining evidence of the school’s compliance with the K12 standards. Schools applying for certification or re-certification prepare a report of their self-assessment of compliance with the standards in each area of the Certification Assessment Instrument or CAI. The school’s assessment is based on their evidence for the items in these nine different areas, of which are found on the outer frame of the diagram above. Hence, the school also puts together the different evidences that support their self-rating. During the certification visit, the team of certifiers verify the school’s CAI report and examine the different evidences presented. Thus, instead of ascertaining the school’s level of meeting the standards based on their perception, this instrument prompts certifiers to verify in more concrete terms the extent of evidences the school actually has. By shifting the focus to observable and tangible evidences, both school and certifiers have a common basis for evaluation. For the school and certifiers’ guidance, a section on Examples of Compliance Evidence is found at the end of every area. Decisions about the final certification status are made in line with the presentation and examination of evidences.

The revision/updating of existing standards of compliance in the 2018 JHS CAI and the identification and articulation of new items is premised on five dimensions. The different area items promote quality education when the items are able to manifest or reflect any of these five dimensions namely, vision/mission-oriented, standards-aligned, developmentally appropriate, outcomes-driven and evidence-based. What do each of these dimensions mean?

<sup>1</sup> This is a revised version of an initial section of the proposed PEAC Standards-based Quality Assurance Instrument – Elementary Schools or SQAI-ES. The dimensions have been adapted for inclusion in the PEAC SQAI-ES, JHS CAI, and SHS CAI. While the number of school areas may vary (SQAI-ES and JHS CAI have nine while SHS CAI has 10), the five dimensions are applicable to all levels in basic education.

Vision/Mission-Oriented: As part of their identity as a private educational institution, private schools articulate and carry out their own vision and mission, philosophy of education, goals and objectives. The school’s vision and mission statements define the school’s purpose and direction. Private schools achieve quality when the school is able to operationalize the vision and mission in the different aspects of school work. The 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance then determine how the different policies, programs and services in the nine school areas are oriented to realizing the vision and mission statement. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI asks the following questions: How vision and mission-oriented are the different school areas in their policies, programs and services? To what extent is the school’s vision-mission accomplished in the nine school areas?

Standards-Aligned: With the passage of RA10533 or the 2013 Enhanced Basic Education Act, all basic education schools are mandated to teach the Department of Education’s K to 12 curriculum program. The program contains curriculum standards and competencies for students to learn. As a private entity, JHS are also enjoined to comply with the provisions of the 2010 Revised Manual of Regulation for Private Schools. Private schools thus show quality when these standards are adopted, implemented and used for evaluation in the nine school areas. For these reasons, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance examine how the school’s curriculum, instruction and assessment are aligned with and utilize these standards. With this second dimension, the 2024

PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance raise the question: To what extent is the school implementing the K12 program standards and other requirements in the nine school areas?

Developmentally-Appropriate: Students in the JHS level develop and realize their potentials when the school provides them research-based teaching and learning experiences that attend to their developmental needs and nurture their growth in different domains (i.e., physical and motor, social-emotional, character and values, cognitive and intellectual, language, mathematical and creative-aesthetic). Consequently, private JHSs manifest quality when the policies, programs and services in the nine school areas are formulated, undertaken and assessed in accordance with the student's developmental requirements and milestones. The 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance gauge how the school incorporates the students' background, needs, learning styles and abilities when planning, implementing and evaluating policies, programs and services. In this third dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance focus on the following question: To what extent are the different developmental needs of students addressed in the nine school areas?

Outcomes-driven: Schools are outcomes-driven when they focus on results that represent students' performance of expected skills as well as each department or program's achievement of stated goals. Private JHS rate high on quality when first, their students in various assessments reliably and consistently demonstrate the skills required at a certain grade level or higher and second, when their programs and services accomplish their specific targets. In line with this, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance measure and report students' achievement levels and program results. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance examine the following: To what extent are students able to demonstrate knowledge, understanding and performance of learning standards and competencies? To what extent are the students able to accomplish the milestones in the different domains of development? To what extent are programs and services in the nine school areas able to produce desired results?

Evidence-based. Successful JHS regularly obtain data and employ various metrics to present and showcase their pupils' achievement and effectiveness of their programs and services. They also search for and document valid and authentic examples of students' achievement, learning interventions and program results. Private JHS undertake these tasks with transparency and rigor. With this dimension, the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI standards of compliance check on the following: To what extent is the school able to support its claims of students' achievements and program effectiveness in the nine school areas?

These five dimensions are integrated throughout the instrument. Every JHS CAI area has items that reflect these dimensions. For example, in the area of Instructional Leadership, item 1 (The provision of a system that actively communicates to various stakeholders the school's Vision, Mission, and Kto12 standards and directions and school's development and innovations in curriculum, assessment and instruction) is vision-mission oriented and standards-aligned. In the Area of Academic Support and Student Development Services, item 3 (A program for inventory and testing services to gather information on students' psychological and emotional make-up, academic progress and difficulties, and occupational and career interests) is about the developmentally-appropriate dimension. Item 3 in Instructional Leadership (Regular collection, interpretation and dissemination of data on student learning and performance to top and key school leaders towards informed decision-making) cover the outcomes-driven and evidence-based dimensions. Through the integration of these five dimensions, school administrators can understand the basis for specification of standards of compliance in the 2024 PEAC JHS CAI.

Instrument Areas

This instrument covers different areas of school operations that produce quality student performance and organizational effectiveness. These areas are:

- A. School Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives
- B. Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction
- C. Instructional Leadership
- D. Faculty
- E. Academic Support and Student Development Services
- F. Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities
- G. Administration and Governance
- H. School Budget and Finances
- I. Institutional Planning and Development

The above areas are clustered into two groups – Core and Support. The Core group of areas covers sections deemed essential to teaching and learning. These areas are Philosophy, Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives; Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction; Instructional Leadership; Faculty; and Administration and Governance. The Support group of areas includes school operations that are undertaken in the context of and based on the direction of the Core group of areas. These areas are Academic Support and Student Development Services; Physical Plant and Instructional Support Facilities; School Budget and Finance; and Planning and Development. Observation of Classroom Instruction is a significant aspect in the area of Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction.

Each area consists of a set of standards for compliance. The standards are drawn from various sources such as the Kto12 Curriculum Program Standards and the Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers. In the Core group of areas, certain items regarded as power standards are marked with an asterisk (*). These standards are critical to the effectiveness of a particular area as these illustrate its key characteristics. Other items that are not marked are regarded as support standards which contribute to or supplement the achievement of a power standard. These items are done in relation to the direction of the power standards. Schools are then rated according to their extent of showing evidence of compliance with the standards.

Format of the Survey Instrument and the Rating Process

Each Area is introduced by an explanatory paragraph presenting the basis of evaluation. The Area lists the standards for compliance. A list of Examples of Compliance Evidences is given for the school's guidance during its self-assessment and preparation of exhibits and documents. With the exception of the area on "School Philosophy, Goals and Objectives", standards in each area are accompanied by the following rating scale:

Rating	Description
4	Evidence of compliance with standard and enhancements is presented
3	Evidence of compliance with standard is presented
2	Partial evidence of compliance with standard is presented
1	No evidence of compliance with standard is presented but plan of action in line with compliance is presented
0	No evidence of compliance with standard nor plan of action is presented

Basing on the evidences presented, individual standards are rated. Upon completion of the individual standard rating, the area rating is determined and recorded according to a decision rule that examines the school's level of compliance. Details of the decision rule are found in Appendix A. A Comments Section is provided for observations and other remarks.

After all areas are rated, another decision rule is applied to determine the final general rating. Details of this decision rule are also found in Appendix A. The final rating then serves as basis of the school's overall certification result. See Appendix A for the different possible certification results.

3. QUALITY ASSURANCE AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PLANNING

Quality Assurance is a proactive means of ensuring quality in any organization (Ajayi and Ekundayo, 2008). Quality assurance in education can be viewed from 2 angles: the internal perspective (within the system, i.e. school quality self –assessment committee and the external measures (checks and balances by the regulatory agencies, i.e., DepEd and PEAC)

Quality Assurance in Education aims at preventing problems on quality and ensures that products of the system conform to the expected standards (Ajayi and Ekundayo, 2008).

Quality is defined by the Department of Education. Indicators of quality in the various aspects of school operations are enumerated in the JHS CAI. An honest and objective school self-assessment based on the quality indicators or standards listed in the JHS CAI brings about an accurate picture of the school’s level of compliance. School Improvement Planning (SIP) should focus on areas and specific standards of non-compliance.

DepEd Order No. 44, s2015 or Guidelines on the Enhanced School Improvement Planning (SIP) Process and the School Report Card (SRC) describes the School Improvement Plan (SIP) as a road map which lays down the school’s specific solutions to corresponding identified priority improvement areas covering a period of three years. The SIP is the basis for the Annual Implementation Plan (AIP) of the school.

Steps in the Enhanced School Improvement Process

The enhanced SIP development and implementation cycle follows three phases:

- * ASSESS
- * PLAN
- * ACT

The AIP is the year-by-year plan

ASSESS-PLAN-ACT Cycle

3.1 QUALITY ASSURANCE AND THE PEAC STANDARDS-BASED SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PLANNING (SSIP) CYCLE

Guided by DepEd Order No 44 s2015, the PEAC Standards-based School Improvement Planning Cycle also follows three phases:

- I. ASSESS where the JHS CAI is used as the assessment tool
- II. PLAN where the assessment results are used as bases in the Standards-based School Improvement Planning (SSIP)
- III. ACT where the SSIP is implemented and put into action.

4. THE PEAC STANDARDS-BASED SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PLANNING (SSIP) PROCESS

Phase I. ASSESS

In the ASSESS Phase, the JHS CAI is used as the assessment tool. The school organizes its Self - Study Committees involving all the sectors of the school to assess its level of compliance with given standards under the ten (9) JHS CAI Areas or operational aspects of the school. The standards for Compliance are listed under specific Areas of school operations in the JHS CAI. The approach to quality assessment is evidence-based, therefore, assessment of school's compliance with standards of quality depends on available evidences.

Examples of Compliance Evidences (ECEs)

To assess school's compliance with the prescribed standards, the School Self-Study Committee gathers conscientiously and purposively evidences or indicators of compliance. evidences of Compliance are those that manifest or indicate school compliance of the standards. School practices, procedures, records, documents and other expressions that could support school claims of compliance are considered evidences. A summary list of ECEs for every Area is included in the JHS CAI. A more specific list of ECEs for every Standard is provided in the accompanying JHS User's Guide.

Using the Rating Scale,

Rating	Description
4	Evidence of compliance with standard and enhancements is presented
3	Evidence of compliance with standard is presented
2	Partial evidence of compliance with standard is presented
1	No evidence of compliance with standard is presented but plan of action in line with compliance is presented
0	No evidence of compliance with standard nor plan of action is presented

What is Rating?

Example 1: Area E.VI

Standards of Compliance	Focus Questions:	Look-Fors:	ECEs:
3.Provisions for adequate and immediate emergency care*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Is there a trained staff available to give first-aid and emergency care when needed?</li> <li>- Are there adequate provisions for first aid and emergency care?</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Adequacy of provisions for first-aid and emergency care</li> <li>- Availability of first-aid and emergency care</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Assigned staff to provide emergency care</li> <li>- Trainings of assigned staff</li> <li>- Emergency Care SOPs/ Clinic</li> <li>- Student Handbook/ Manual</li> <li>- First aid and emergency care SOPs</li> </ul>

Example A:

In St Padre Pio High School, a medical mission from the New York Holy Angels Community Hospital has updated the school clinic and left provisions for emergency care of the school community. The school Doctor comes once a month to conduct the on-going medical check-ups. Dental check-ups are done in June by a volunteer parent-dentist. Otherwise, the clinic stays closed to keep the clinic secure because there is no one else to take on the job.

Standards of Compliance	Focus Questions:	Look-Fors:	ECEs:
3.Provisions for adequate and immediate emergency care*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Is there a trained staff available to give first-aid and emergency care when needed?</li> <li>- Are there adequate provisions for first aid and emergency care?</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Adequacy of provisions for first-aid and emergency care X</li> <li>- Availability of first-aid and emergency care</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Assigned staff to provide emergency care</li> <li>- Trainings of assigned staff</li> <li>- Emergency Care SOPs/ Clinic</li> <li>- Student Handbook/ Manual</li> <li>- First aid and emergency care SOPs</li> </ul>

Standards of Compliance
3.Provisions for adequate and immediate emergency care*	4	3	2	1	0

In this case, the Certifier rated this standard 2 because the provisions are adequate but emergency care is not available.

So the Recommendation is written as: “Provisions for immediate emergency care”

Example 2: Area I.2

Standards of Compliance	Focus Questions:	Look-Fors:	ECEs:
2. An annual operational plan drawn from the three-year SSIP*	- Is there an existing Three- Year Standards-based School Improvement Plan? - Is there an Annual Operational Plan drawn from the SSIP?	- Standards-based three-year school planning - Annual school planning	- Annual Operational Plan - SSIP - Minutes of the planning meetings

Example B:

The Principal and 2 junior teachers have transferred to the public school. The newly appointed Principal is enrolled in the graduate school for her Master’s degree. Given these circumstances, the school SSIP lapsed in 2021. No new SSIP has been crafted.

Standards of Compliance	Focus Questions:	Look-Fors:	ECEs:
2. An annual operational plan drawn from the three-year SSIP*	- Is there an existing Three- Year Standards-based School Improvement Plan? - Is there an Annual Operational Plan drawn from the SSIP?	- Standards-based three-year school planning  - Annual school planning 	- Annual Operational Plan - SSIP - Minutes of the planning meetings

Standards of Compliance
2. An annual operational plan drawn from the three-year SSIP*	4	3	2	1	0

So the Recommendation is written as: An annual operational plan drawn from the three-year SSIP*

Example 3: Area E.VI.1

Standards of Compliance	Focus Questions:	Look-Fors:	ECEs:
VI.1. Annual medical and dental check- ups*	- Are medical and dental check-ups conducted annually?	- Annual medical check-ups - Annual dental check-ups	- Schedule of medical and dental check-ups - Student Health records - Calendar of Health Service activities

Example C:

St Padre Pio High School has a small population and has significantly served the small town of Sto. Tomas by offering Catholic basic education. Recently, it offered Senior High School. It has never conducted medical and dental check-ups for its students and consequently has no need of a Physician and a Dentist.

Standards of Compliance	Focus Questions:	Look-Fors:	ECEs:
VI.1. Annual medical and dental check- ups*	- Are medical and dental check-ups conducted annually?	- Annual medical check-ups X - Annual dental check-ups X	- Schedule of medical and dental check-ups - Student Health records - Calendar of Health Service activities

Standards of Compliance
VI.1. Annual medical and dental check- ups*	4	3	2	1	0

So the Recommendation is written as: Annual medical and dental check- ups

Example 4: Area D.

Standards of Compliance	Focus Questions:	Look-Fors:	ECEs:
3. Faculty Development plan designed to: 3.1 help teachers achieve professional growth in the seven domains and meet the standards of the 2017 Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers*	- Does the Faculty Development Plan include strategies towards the development of the 7 domains prescribed by the 2017 PPST?	- Faculty Development Plan that includes the development of the 7 domains prescribed by the PPST - Content Knowledge and Pedagogy - Learning Environment - Diversity of Learners - Curriculum and Planning - Assessment and Reporting - Community Linkages and Professional Engagement - Personal Growth and Professional Development	- Faculty Development Plan - Faculty Development Plan Evaluation Instruments, Results and Summaries - Faculty Performance Evaluation Instruments, Results and Summaries - Calendar of Faculty Development Activities - List of Faculty Development Activities

Example D:

St. Padre Pio Senior High School provides faculty development activities that includes retreats, recollections and character formation sessions. The faculty join associations like MTAP, BIOTA, Toast Masters Club and the like. The school maximizes faculty attendance in seminars on teaching the SHS subjects by PEAC; curriculum mapping, formative assessment and seminars on on-line delivery modalities sponsored by book companies. A prominent US-based alumnus offered 3 graduate studies scholarships for the teachers.

3. Faculty Development plan designed to: 3.1 help teachers achieve professional growth in the seven domains and meet the standards of the 2017 Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers*	4	3	2	1	0

In the Area of Faculty or Standard 3.1, the Team rated the school 2 because the provisions of seminars and workshops covered only the domains of Content and Pedagogy, Learning Environment, Curriculum and Planning, and Personal Growth and Professional Development of the 2017 Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers.

So the Recommendation is written as:

Faculty Development Plan designed to help teachers achieve professional growth in the seven domains and meet the standards of 2017 Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers, particularly in-

- c) Diversity of Learners
- d) Community Linkages and Professional Engagement

2. Qualified School Principal with MA Degree in Education*	- Is the Principal qualified with a Masteral degree in Education?	- MA degree of the Principal	- 201 File of the Principal - OTR of the Principal and Notarized Contract - Diploma

Example E: St Padre Pio High School has a young teacher as Principal. Despite her diligence at work and her openness to change, she has no MA degree. The SSIP provided, among its initiatives, an MA scholarship for her starting Summer of 2019. The SSIP also includes a Faculty Development Plan with provisions for seminars and workshops.

2. Qualified School Principal with MA Degree in Education*	4	3	2	1	0

The Certification Team, using the Rating Scale, gave the school a rating of 1 for Standard 2 in Administration and Governance because the Principal does not have an MA degree but there is a clear plan of Action towards this.

So the Recommendation is written as: Qualified School Principal with MA degree in Education

If there is more than one output, are the outputs numbered?	Are the stated action steps in line with the Smart Goal and Output? Are the stated action steps specific or observable? Do they begin with a verb? Do the stated action steps show a logical sequence? Do the action steps lead to the output? If there is more than one output, are the action step numbers consistent with the output numbers?	Is the time period stated? Is the allotted time for the various tasks realistic for doing the different action steps? Is the numbering of the time period entries consistent with the number of the action steps?	Is the stated entry in line with the action steps? Does the monitoring system check on whether the action step is done or completed? Are there specific indicators to achieve and related to target ECE? Are there tools to use? Does the monitoring system involve documenting the accomplishment of the action step? Is the numbering of entries aligned with the action steps?	Does the stated person in charge have the background, qualification or authority needed for doing the output and action steps? Are the entries numbered in line with the action steps one is tasked to do?	Is a specific amount stated? Is the amount drawn from a budgeted item? Is the fund item stated? In cases where there is no actual disbursement of fund, is the source of the expense stated? Is the entry numbered in line with the related action steps or monitoring system?

Using the Rubrics

STANDARDS-BASED SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PLAN
Improvement Plan Item	Smart Goals	Output	Action Steps	Time Period	Monitoring System	Person In Charge	Budget And Budget Source
Area is stated. Standard of Compliance item is stated containing parts that need to be implemented or improved.	Goals are written as specific, measurable, attainable, realistic and time bound.	End result of the various actions steps is clearly described in line with the desired improvement plan area.	Action steps show a detailed and logical process of achieving the SMART Goals and accomplishing the output.	Dates of expected accomplishment of the output are stated and achievable.	A system of reviewing and evaluating the accomplishment of the different action steps and achieving the output is described in detail.	Key point persons responsible for the accomplishment of the SMART Goals are clearly identified and stated. The person has sufficient experience to achieve the goals.	Amount is stated along with the source from the school budget. Amount is sufficient to achieve the output.
